

G-Men Tackle Parsons Case and Deny Reports Contacts Were Made

Federal Agents Continue to Scour Woods at Stony Brook, but Veil Majority of Their Action with Secrecy.

NEWSPAPER AD

Reports of Contact Based on Insertion of Ad in Morning Newspaper.

Stony Brook, N. Y., June 16 (AP).—The Federal Bureau of Investigation, with a noteworthy record of solutions in the Lindbergh, Weyerhaeuser, Stoll and other spectacular kidnappings, today tackled the mysterious disappearance of Mrs. Alice McDonnell Parsons, North Shore Long Island society matron.

Even as the federal men swung into action there came reports, quickly denied, however, by the government agents, that a definite contact had been established with the supposed kidnappers.

Outwardly the federal men concentrated on the third-day's search of the dense woods and undergrowth northeast of the trim little farm house from which Mrs. Parsons vanished a week ago today.

Behind the scenes they veiled their activities with secrecy. Although government investigators have been at Stony Brook since last Wednesday night, shortly after a ransom note demanding $25,000 was found tucked in the front seat of the Parsons' car, today marked their formal assumption of control in the investigation.

The Lindbergh kidnapping law, it was pointed out, provides for federal supervision in abduction cases seven days after commission of the crime on the presumption the victim has been taken across a state line, making it a federal offense.

Inspector Earl Connelley held an informal press conference today just before the search of the woods was renewed but insisted there were no developments.

Reports of Contact.
Reports of a new contact with abductors were based on the insertion of an advertisement in a New York morning newspaper. The advertisement said:

"Sennet. Come home. Telephone Huntington 97."

Later the telephone exchange was deleted, but the number "97" remained. The telephone directory lists "Huntington 97" in the name of Gerald M. Livingston, wealthy Long Island sportsman.

The Livingston estate on the north shore is just across the West Neck road from the estate of the late Col. T. S. Williams who willed an interest in it to Mrs. Parsons, his niece. Livingston promptly denied suggestions he might be an intermediary.

No explanation came from any other quarter as to who inserted the advertisement and Livingston repeated he did not know what it was all about.

House Lighted
Until early this morning, the entire lower floor of the Parsons home was alight and there appeared to be much activity within. Except for the first two nights after Mrs. Parsons disappeared a week ago, the house had been darkened early in the evening.

Earl Connelley, inspector of the Federal Bureau of Investigation who assumed formal charge of the case today, was absent from his headquarters on a mysterious mission from late yesterday afternoon until after midnight. He returned more than two hours after the time he had set for a press conference.

Parsons Questions
Connelley parried questions much of the time but, asked whether he was "ready to withdraw from the case on a theory a kidnapping was not committed," the inspector replied:

"Absolutely not."
A week ago today Mrs. Parsons left her farm with a man and a woman in an automobile, intending to return in a short time, as Mrs. Anna Kuryanova, Russian-born woman living with Mrs. Parsons and her husband, told the story. When Parsons returned home from New York city that evening, Mrs. Parsons had not returned. A few hours later a note demanding $25,000 ransom was found.

Today, so far as is known, nothing more definite had been uncovered to indicate what may have happened to the woman who soon was to inherit a small fortune. And today, under the so-called Lindbergh kidnapping law, the federal government took charge of the case on the presumption Mrs. Parsons had been taken across a state line, thus making the abduction a federal offense. The law prescribes a seven-day interval after the disappearance before the interstate phase is pre-empted.

Still Holding Bonds
Washington, June 16 (AP).—Treasury reports disclosed today that about one-fourth of the veterans who received bonus bonds a year ago still are holding them. On June 16, 1936, the postmen started handing out the service men's $744,235,500 of the obligations back to the government in exchange for cash.

Nazis and Fascists Will Resume Parts in Neutral Patrol

London, June 16 (AP).—Germany and Italy formally announced today their decision to resume cooperation with the international non-intervention committee and to take an active part in the neutral patrol of Spanish waters.

German and Italian ambassadors made the announcements in a joint communiqué which said the decision was reached "as the result of the agreement June 12 between the four powers responsible for the naval patrol."

The two countries withdrew from the committee May 31 after warships of both Italy and Germany had been bombed by Spanish government planes. German warships bombed Almeria in reprisal, also. A meeting of the international committee may be held next week, although it may await the answer of the Spanish government and the insurgents to requested guarantees that patrol ships would not be attacked.

British Welcome Visit.
British political sources welcomed as a sign of improving Anglo-German relations the news that Baron Konstantin Von Neurath, Adolf Hitler's foreign minister, would visit London next week.

Generally well informed persons said they believed Neville Chamberlain, Britain's new prime minister, was responsible for the invitation to Berlin.

A foreign office announcement said Von Neurath's visit, beginning June 23, would "offer an opportunity for an exchange of views on matters of common interest to the two countries, and particularly the Spanish problem."

LITTLE BUSINESS MAN MEETS SOCIAL SECURITY

Greenfield, Mass., June 16 (AP).—A one cent fine and the problem of paying 14 cents in federal taxes today faced Elmer E. Taylor, a newsboy. Deputy Collector of Internal Revenue Edward J. O'Donnell notified Elmer he was several months in arrears in contributing to Uncle Sam's Social Security Program that he would have to pay back taxes and was subject to a one cent fine.

Elmer, it seems, was unaware he was obliged to contribute seven cents from his own account and was legally obligated to deduct seven cents from the salary of 12-year-old Stanley Lacount, who, as his employee, receives $1.50 a week.

ASKS ROOSEVELT TO INTERVENE IN STRIKE

Johnstown, O., June 16 (AP).—Mayor Daniel J. Shields appealed to President Roosevelt today to intervene in the Johnstown steel strike to "remove the murderous element that now infests the city."

Support For Dies Measure
Newark, N. J., June 16 (AP).—Support of the Federal Bar Association of New York, New Jersey and Connecticut was placed today behind the Dies House measure governing deportation of convicted aliens. A resolution unanimously calling upon President Roosevelt and Congress to press for passage of the House of Representatives bill was voted last night by the association at the opening of its fifth annual convention.

J. J. Mahoney Dies.
New York, June 16 (AP).—Alderman John J. Mahoney, 54, of the First Assembly district, North Manhattan, died today. He had been ill from a stomach ailment. Mahoney was Democratic leader of the Fifth Assembly district with James J. Dooley, Tammany Hall head.

New York, June 16 (AP).—Mayor Fiorello H. LaGuardia signed a one-year renewal today of New York city's sales tax, while pickets paraded outside city hall protesting the measure.

Irving Levine, Ellenville coal dealer for whom Charles James Brown worked, was called to the witness stand this morning and testified that Brown rode to Port Jervis with him on the early morning of April 8, shortly before the Handelman murder was discovered and at that time Brown said he was going to Port Jervis to get a fur coat. He told Levine that he had money. Mrs. Margaret R. King, assistant commissioner of Public Welfare of Orange county who recognized Brown from pictures she had seen, also was sworn during the morning session. She told of Brown coming to the Orange County Home and asking for something to eat, and when confronted with the statement that he was the man wanted in Ellenville for the murder of Mr. and Mrs. Handelman she said he admitted his identity and suggested she call the sheriff.

After eating bread and milk produced by Mrs. King she said she offered a second helping and Brown ate that and when it was gone she said to him:

"That will do until you get a meal."

"They kills me," Mrs. King said he replied.

Gave No Information

Sheriff William Schoonmaker of Orange county, who went to the home and picked up Brown and returned him to Goshen jail, also was called. Sheriff Schoonmaker said that Brown answered questions on the four-mile trip to the jail, but volunteered no information.

"Why did you kill those aged folks?" asked the sheriff. "I don't know why I did it, guess I must have been crazy," the sheriff said Brown replied.

"Give me the hot seat and have it over with," Brown said.

Sheriff Schoonmaker said that Brown said he did not know how much money he got in Ellenville. It was between $50 and $100.

"What did you do with it?" asked the sheriff.

He said Brown replied, "In Port Jervis I drank some and got tight and next morning I did not have it."

Police Corporal Cadwell.

Corporal William Cadwell, of the bureau of criminal investigation, the state police, was the first witness called. He identified the two watches found on the floor of the Handelman bedroom on April 8 in the debris. They were close to the doorway leading to another bedroom. One watch had stopped at 11:57 and one at 5:07. The watches were found about 18 inches from the door. He also identified an overcoat found in an abandoned house in Port Jervis. The articles he said had been turned over to District Attorney Murray.

Trooper Ray Dalrymple of the B. C. I. said on April 8 he had delivered the union gear from Mr. Murray's office to the laboratory at Schenectady for examination of the blood stains. He also took along two bottles of a fluid which appeared to be blood. He said he later returned the gear to Mr. Murray. He identified the pinion gear and said he had seen it wrapped up in the office of Mr. Murray before it was taken to Schenectady for analysis. Pieces of lumber from the Handelman bedroom floor also were identified. The lumber had been delivered to him by Inspector Maynard of the B. C. I. on April 9 and was taken to Schenectady and returned.

Mechanic Testifies

Otto Mar, Ellenville mechanic, said he knew the Levine and Rappaport property. He worked on the trucks of the men who were engaged in the coal business. He saw the pinion gear in evidence in the Ladonville Garage where it had been taken out of a truck. It was about the garage and in October of 1936 when Levine and Rappaport brought their truck for work he had thrown the gear in their truck together with other junk and they took it home. He later saw it about Christmas in the Rappaport home in a pile of junk next to the room where Brown lived.

On the day he went to the Rappaport home to fix a tube he saw the pinion gear in the room and Levine said, "This is where Brown sleeps," as they passed through the house.

Basques Struggling to Halt Burning of Bilbao At Hands of Anarchists

Serious Disorders Break Out as Attempts are Made to Burn City and Prevent Insurgent Occupation.

SPEED EVACUATION

Women, Children and Men Too Old to Fight Quickly Leave Beleaguered City.

Hendaye, Franco-Spanish Frontier, June 16 (AP).—Basques were reported struggling today to prevent anarchists from burning Bilbao to keep it from falling into the hands of insurgents who were threatening their proud capital with a double blow from north and south.

Columns of smoke were said to be rising over Baracaldo on the west bank of the Nervion river just two miles north of the ancient city. Insurgent observers reported serious disorders had broken out in the Achuri section of Bilbao.

Basques who wanted to evacuate were said to be fighting the extremists who sought to fire the houses and present insurgent Generalissimo Francisco Franco with only the ruins of victory.

Thousands of refugees were streaming out of the long-beleaguered industrial center along the still open roads westward to Santander where it was thought likely the Basque government would be moved if the city's last defenses fell.

Pitiful scenes were witnessed along the roadsides where the refugees—many of them sleepless for four days and more—straggled with their bundles of cherished possessions to at least temporary safety.

Air Raid Greets Walkers

One group arrived in Santander after a 100-mile trek only to be met by an insurgent air raid.

All available buildings in Santander were converted into shelters for refugees.

They were fleeing Bilbao on foot, by rail and by sea. Four large merchantmen and a fleet of small fishing trawlers flying the flag of the Red Cross brought many of the women and children to Santander.

The evacuation of the women and children and the men too old for fighting was speeded by the spatter of bullets ricocheting through the streets from the insurgent guns on the hills that form the eastern border of the city.

Streets Barred

Those who remained hurriedly barricaded the streets for a last stand against the invaders who had taken up their advance guard positions in the outskirts of Begonia, a suburb just across the Nervion river to the northeast.

A column of Legionnaires swept the northern coastal plain, occupying the towns of Plencia, Lemoiz and Gorliz, and forced the crossing of the Butron river which flows parallel to the Nervion four miles to the east.

It was the northern pincer of the movement by which Franco hopes to encircle the city before ordering the general advance of his army toward the capital itself.

The southern wing, with its field base at Galdacano, five miles south-east of Bilbao, completed the crossing on the Ibaizabal river and was moving toward a junction with troops from Begonia and the Santo Domingo heights beyond.

Francisco's troops held places on three sides of the city, leaving only the Nervion to be crossed and the heights on the west to be occupied before the order for the occupation went out.

Treasury Receipts

Washington, June 16 (AP).—The position of the Treasury on June 14: deposits, $37,294,525.48; expenditures, $32,058,428.16; balance, $1,806,267.33; customs receipts for the month, $21,138,471.93. Receipts for the fiscal year (since July 1), $4,703,059,764.61; expenditures, $7,107,416,487.59, including $2,710,201,186.70 of emergency expenditures, excess of expenditures, $2,404,356,722.98; gross debt, $321,874,582.01; a decrease of $447,298.87 under the previous day; gold assets, $12,192,749,288.34, including $961,403,342.78 of inactive gold.

Back-to-Work Movement of Steel Strikers Fails as Big Explosion Adds to Tension

Monroe Mayor's Picket Plan Proves Successful

Monroe, Mich., June 16 (AP).—Under the watchful eyes of state police and local officers, 600 Newton Steel Co. workers passed a strike picket line without incident at the change of shifts this morning.

A dozen pickets, half the number permitted under rules drawn up yesterday by Mayor Daniel A. Knaggs and representatives of the steel workers organizing committee, were grouped near the line that was smashed by gas and clubs last Thursday.

Half a dozen Michigan state police, two city patrolmen and two deputies were there to guard against violence that Mayor Knaggs said he was confident had been prevented by the decision to permit "peaceful picketing."

The pickets were permitted to parade on one side of the road over a distance of fifty yards at a spot fully a mile from the mill gates. Meanwhile, several hundred heavily armed vigilantes took up their station on the road half way between the pickets and the mill. At the mayor's request they kept out of shouting distance of the pickets. State police patrolled the picket line, more to protect the pickets from attacks at the hands of the aggressive vigilantes than for anything else.

The pickets had agreed not even to yell at the workers on their way to and from the mill. "All we can do is look," the strike captain said this afternoon, "and if looks could kill, they'd be dead."

Police Received Complaints of a Plane Flying Low

Downtown residents became alarmed shortly after 7 o'clock Tuesday evening by the antics of an airplane pilot flying his plane low over the city and stuffing. One woman became so frightened on West Chestnut street that as the plane swooped low over the house she grasped her two little children and took them indoors.

The police department telephone rang several times to receive complaints of the pilot and his plane. One resident informed the police that the plane number was NC10122, and the police got in touch with the Kingston Airport and were informed that the plane was piloted by Jack Linton and was not from the airport. Linton, according to the police report, lives on the Rosebade road.

The pilot of the plane as he swooped low over the downtown section of the city would shut off his motor and he was at such a low altitude that householders became alarmed thinking that the plane was about to crash on their houses.

Predicts Great Things.

Saranac Inn, N. Y., June 16 (AP).—"The greatest period of expansion and prosperity that you and I have ever seen" was forecast today by Roy H. Bassett, of Canton, president of the New York State League of Savings and Loan Associations. "The depression is over, business is back to normal," Bassett said in an address prepared for delivery at the group's 50th annual convention here.

3 Persons Killed

Irvine, Scotland, June 16 (AP).—Three persons were killed and two were injured seriously today in a series of explosions at a blasting powder factory. The explosions destroyed five black powder magazines.

A retired grocer, Daniel A. Knaggs, 200-pound mayor of Monroe, Mich., is embroiled in one of the nation's toughest labor disputes, that centering around the Newton Steel Company plant, which the C. I. O. is fighting to organize under its banner. Knaggs is shown pondering a telegram from Gov. Frank Murphy. Knaggs says, "I've got nothing against labor."

Blum's Government Wins Approval for Financial Powers

Paris, June 16 (AP).—Socialist Premier Leon Blum's government rode out the worst crisis in its year-old history today and won the Chamber of Deputies' approval of its demand for extraordinary financial powers.

Just when Communist dissension within the ranks of Blum's own followers seemed to presage the cabinet's resignation, the break was repaired and Blum gained victory in what amounted to a vote of confidence.

The victory came in the lower house's approval, 316 to 217, of a bill authorizing it to take whatever financial action it saw fit between now and July 31, without waiting for parliamentary sanction.

Tomorrow the Senate was to begin debating the measure, adopted in the chamber after a night long session during which Blum appealed to the deputies to "be faithful to me."

Specifically, the bill would authorize the government, for a month and a half, "to take by cabinet decree any measures necessary for the reconstruction of public finances as well as the protection of savings, money and the public credit." Three months later the measures would be submitted to Parliament.

Blum held that such action was necessary in meeting the problem of an estimated deficit of 10,000,000,000 francs ($1,740,000,000) in the government's expected ordinary and extraordinary expenditures for 1937. (The extraordinary expenditures are those not included in the ordinary budget of about $2,211,000,000, which itself was left unbalanced by some $211,000,000 when adopted January 21.)

Government credit also was at stake. Blum asserted, declaring the franc and government bonds had been under heavy speculative attacks.

Communists in Parliament battled Blum's plan from the start. The People's Front, a union of left parties which won last year's general election and made possible Blum's selection as premier, was split.

"Infectious Disease"

Boston, June 16 (AP).—Dr. Thomas Hodge McGavack, of New York city, said today that rheumatic fever was an infectious disease probably due to a streptococcus. Dr. McGavack, speaking at the 32d annual convention of the American Institute of Homeopathy, said that all the clinical manifestations of rheumatic fever were allergic in nature. He added that rheumatic fever was probably due not only to infection but also to a deficiency of vitamin C.

Bernhardt Funeral

Buffalo, N. Y., June 16 (AP).—A group of state legislators attended the funeral today of Frank X. Bernhardt, former state assemblyman from Erie county, who died Sunday after a long illness. Mr. Bernhardt was 73, served in the Republic of arms of the assembly from 1925-34 and again in 1936.

ASKS FOR RECORDS

Federal Judge Wants to Know Republic Steel Payments for Guns, Bombs and Spies.

Youngstown, O., June 16 (AP).—A back-to-work movement, designed to re-open the strike-streiked mills of the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company, ended inconclusively today as a dynamite explosion heightened the tension on another front in the big steel strike area.

A similar back-to-work move in Detroit, however, gained momentum in some General Motors Corporation plants, with the settlement of a walkout that has kept 12,000 employees of the Torndorn Manufacturing Company of Detroit idle since June 7.

The steel workers organizing committee proposed to the Bethlehem Steel Corporation that an election be held at the strikebound Cambria works in Johnstown, Pa., to determine whether John L. Lewis' steel union will represent the employees in collective bargaining.

Pittsburgh headquarters of the union announced a telegram had been sent to Eugene Grace, president of Bethlehem, making the proposal.

Stipulations Made

The union stipulated that if the union wins the election, the company should agree to a written labor contract—the prime point at which independent steel companies have balked.

Frank J. Purnell, president of Youngstown Sheet & Tube, vetoed—for the moment, at least—the back-to-work plan submitted by Ray L. Thomas, who said he was a spokesman for 10,000 non-striking steel workers in the Mahoning Valley. Purnell declined to give the workers' delegation any answer except that he would move "as rapidly as possible" to obtain promises of "protection" from civil authorities for men who want to go back to work.

He would not attempt a re-opening, he said, until he had received such assurances.

The mills have been idle for three weeks. At Warren, O., another tense point in the Mahoning Valley steel area, Judge Lynn G. Griffith ordered the Republic Steel Company to bring into court any records showing how much has been spent for machine-guns, tear-gas bombs, labor "spies" and company unions.

"The judge made his ruling at the start of the third day's hearing on Republic petition for an injunction to curtail picketing."

Unions Clash.

At Ambridge, Pa., a spokesman for an American Federation of Labor Union, asserted in a protest to President Roosevelt and Attorney General Homer Cummings that CIO pickets prevented AFL workers from returning to their jobs.

The protest followed yesterday's clash at Ambridge when scores were beaten in a free-for-all between 500 CIO pickets and 50 AFL members attempting a back-to-work movement.

Here in the Mahoning valley—where the long "pencil" stacks of the mills have remained smokeless against the industrial skyline since May 26—more than 30,000 men are idle.

About 20,000 have been out of work in Youngstown alone, with the huge Republic Steel Corporation and the Youngstown Sheet and Tube Company standing adamant against CIO demands for a signed labor contract.

On the eastern front of the strike "war" and explosion at Johnstown, Pa., sent scores of terror-stricken residents tumbling from their beds into the streets before dawn today.

New Violence

Youngstown, O., June 16 (AP).—Dynamite thundered new violence on the C. I. O. steel strike front today.

The explosion—police believe it was caused by a bomb—shattered the temporary calm outside the gates of the Bethlehem Steel plant at Johnstown, Pa., just before dawn. No one was hurt, but taut-nerved citizens for blocks around ran excitedly into the streets.

Just 24 hours before, there had been fierce fighting at the same strike-bound plant; and there had been dynamiting at Warren, O.

Today's blast was near the Gaultier plant of Bethlehem, sprawling Cambria works. It ripped away a large section of concrete walls and shattered several windows.

No police were on duty there. The explosion came on the heels of a volley of words from two Big Guns of Steel. Only a few hours earlier there had been oral blasts from Tom Girdler of the Republic Steel and Frank Purnell, president of Youngstown Sheet and Tube—two generals in the fight against the C. I. O. strike.

"Communist" was the way fiery

Mr. Roosevelt's Economists Scratch Heads To Find How Low Income Groups Can Buy More

Washington, June 16 (AP).—Administration economists, spurred by President Roosevelt's re-statement of economic policy, sought methods today for generating greater purchasing power among low income groups.

Mr. Roosevelt told his press conference late yesterday that if the one-third of the population in the lowest income class could increase its buying power, it would accelerate the business machine generally.

This, he said, would boost the national income, speed the flow of tax revenue into the Treasury, and bring the budget into balance.

As an example, the President said that if taxpayers paid the government $6,000,000,000 when the national income was $60,000,000,000, revenue might be expected to total $9,000,000,000 if the national income reached $90,000,000,000.

Besides meeting revenue needs, he said, such a development would whittle expenditures by reducing the relief load. It then would be possible to pare the public debt, he added.

Mr. Roosevelt advanced no specific proposals for increasing purchasing power among low income groups, but said something might be accomplished by such steps as increasing the $10 monthly allowance for dependent children under the social security act and by fixing wage and hour standards.

He promised further details in a "fireside chat" this summer or at another press conference.

The President said various administration officials are studying methods of reaching his broad economic objectives. He talked with some prior to his press conference, he explained.

His callers yesterday included Secretaries Morgenthau, Wallace and Perkins; Harry Hopkins, works progress administrator; Chairman Marriner S. Eccles of the Federal Reserve Board, and Acting Budget Director Daniel W. Bell.

Studies already made, Mr. Roosevelt said, have substantiated his statements that one-third of the population is ill-fed, ill-housed and ill-clothed. He suggested that business itself should seek methods of increasing purchasing power among those groups.

Cannon Woman Is Hurt at Carnival

What at first appeared to be a serious accident occurred last night on the World's Exposition Shows, when Samson the strong man was knocked from his feet as he caught Mlle. Marguerite when she was fired from the cannon on the midway. He immediately arose, but found that the young lady lay still on the ground. Picking her up in his arms he took her to the hospital tent, where Doctor John Fisher, the physician in charge, diagnosed the case as slight concussion and dislocation of the collar bone, and it was caused by an overload of explosive, precipitating her too forcefully into the arms of the strong man, who received the impact of her body, causing him to fall. It is extremely doubtful if Mlle. Marguerite will appear again this week, or in the near future.

The Unique Flying Quartette, however, opened their engagement last night with a full performance on the high rigging erected on the grounds. The four performers, one female and three males, have an exciting and sensational performance 50 feet in the air.

The shows will entertain the orphans of the Sacred Heart Orphanage on Saturday next at the children's matinee. Arrangements are being made to bring the children to the grounds early in the afternoon and they will be the guests of Max Gruberg and be entertained by the show in general as long as the Sisters in charge will allow them to stay. The children's matinee will start at 1 p. m. and the shows will be open every night this week at 7 p. m.

LYONSVILLE

Lyonville, June 15—The members of the Young People's Club enjoyed a hot dog roast at the Happy Valley picnic grounds on Sunday evening. Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Barley and Mrs. Van Steenburg of Stone Ridge spent Sunday afternoon and evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Oakley.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Osterhout of Mettachonts spent Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. Hornbeck.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Countryman and daughter, Caroline, and Joan Temple visited Mr. and Mrs. A. Countryman of High Falls on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. F. Oakley visited Kingston on Saturday evening.

Everyone is cordially invited to attend a dance to be held at the Young People's Community Clubhouse on Friday evening, June 18. A mock wedding enacted by members of the club will be an added attraction. Miss Marie Trowbridge visited Miss Jane Hathmaker after school on Friday.

B. Durr of Sleightsburgh spent Saturday afternoon at the home of Clyde Roosa.

Since 1920 there have been 18 per cent more men teachers and only 6 per cent more women teachers in the public elementary schools of the United States.

SO THEY GOT A RING. Gene Raymond and Jeanette MacDonald, screen favorites, were making it a big June for Hollywood. Their invitation list included many movie notables. Neither has been married before.

Kingston's Shekel Committee Plans Two Polling Places

With the largest enrollment of shekel payers in the history of the American Zionist movement, the election of American delegates to the 10th World Zionist Congress to be held in Switzerland this August will be held in this city on Sunday, June 20, at two polling places according to an announcement made today by Thelma Mandell, chairman of the Kingston Shekel and Election Committee. Similar elections will also be held in 250 other communities located in each of the 48 states of the country.

On the basis of one delegate for every 3,000 Shekel enrollments an American delegation of 90 persons is assured as over 270,000 shekel holders have been registered with the national office of the Central Shekel Board according to its chairman, Samuel Markewich.

In enrolling in the cause of Zionism, each of the shekel holders signed a petition urging Great Britain not to "infringe on the rights of Jewry in Palestine". It called upon Great Britain, as the mandatory power appointed by the League of Nations, to live up to its mandate and keep faith with the Balfour Declaration, both of which instruments provided that Palestine be developed as a Jewish Homeland.

With each of the five parties of the American Zionist movement making last minute efforts to bring out votes for their respective tickets, the Central Shekel Board issued a statement calling on the shekel holders to be sure to exercise their right of ballot. Stating that by "the purchase of a shekel you have only done half your duty," the statement calls upon all Zionists to "show their solidarity to the movement by voting."

The pre-election strength of the various parties as determined by the number of paid-up shekels credited to them, as announced by Mr. Schmidt, follows:

Hadassah, Junior Hadassah, 108,000
Zionist Organization of America, 72,000
Lazar Zionists, 60,500
Mizrachi Organization of America, 30,500
Jewish State Party, 800

The polling places in this city will be open on Sunday, June 20, from 11 a. m. to 4 p. m. and will be located at: Temple Emanuel and at the home of Rabbi H. Bloom, 225 Main street. Besides Mrs. T. Mandell, the chairman, the other members of the local election committee are: Mr. and Mrs. Morris Newman, Dr. and Mrs. S. Rudisch and A. Welsman.

PLATTEKILL

Plattekill, June 16—A social dance will be conducted at the Plattekill Grange hall on Friday evening, June 18, under the direction of the dance committee of the Grange.

Thursday evening, June 17, the annual commencement exercises of the Junior High School graduates will be held in the Normal School Auditorium. Local members of the class are Mary Apuzzo, Dorothy Fowler, Margaret Garcia, Pilar TaFall.

Six new members have joined the Rainbow 4-H Club of Plattekill. They are Anna Albano, Helen Albano, Mary Gosofsky, Evelyn Campbell, Josephine Montforte and Mary DiBenedetto.

Miss Jacqueline Morris of Gardiner was a recent guest of Miss Beatrice Robinson.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer Sutton and M. Augusta Johnston were callers on Mr. and Mrs. Harry Gerow at New Paltz, Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Effie T. Smith of Poughkeepsie has been appointed new district deputy for Hillcrest Lodge of Rebekahs at Newburgh. Mrs. Smith will be remembered by Miss Edie Terwilliger of Plattekill.

James B. Palmer and daughter, Miss Ruth Palmer, attended graduation exercises at a Philadelphia school on Sunday, when James Lockwood was among the class of graduates.

Edmund Wager and friends spent the week-end camping and fishing near the Ashokan reservoir.

Many officials and employees of the New York city aqueduct are boarding and renting places in this section. An industrial boom is anticipated during the construction of the aqueduct.

ST. REMY

St. Remy, June 16—The Children's Day exercises will be held Sunday, June 20, at the church at 2:30 p. m. A cordial invitation is given to all.

Mr. and Mrs. Berton Shultz and son, Merton, motored to New Jersey on Sunday and returned.

Mrs. Edna Mori of Stamford, Conn., spent last week with the Terpening family.

Mrs. Alice Pruden called on Mrs. Kathryn Sutton on Sunday.

Mrs. Sadie Freer of New Salem was the week-end guest of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Schultz at Kingston.

The Men's Club meets Friday evening in the Sunday school room. It is important that all the members be present.

Mrs. Elizabeth Freer of New Salem called on Mrs. K. Sutton on Saturday.

The Rev. Philip Goertz held services at the Home, New Paltz, on Sunday.

The Misses E. Williams of Brooklyn were week-end guests of the Ellsworth family.

A cordial invitation is given to all to attend the friendly social on Thursday in the Sunday school room at 2:30 p. m. The Rev. and Mrs. Philip Goertz and Mrs. Tinney of Port Ewen are expected to be present and entertain with recitations. Refreshments will be served.

Walter Schmitz is a delegate to the C. E. convention at Syracuse this week.

Dr. and Mrs. Watson of New York city and Mr. and Mrs. Dunn called at the Ellsworth home Sunday morning.

Some 50 national and interstate trade associations which operated in the United States in 1925 increased to 1,000 in 1936 and now number 2,400.

Blind Sale to End Saturday

There are only a few days in which to help the sale of the blind. The sale is being held at Broadway, corner of Albany avenue, and has the united support of all of the churches of Kingston. The committees in charge urge all to come in at the store and buy something from the sightless.

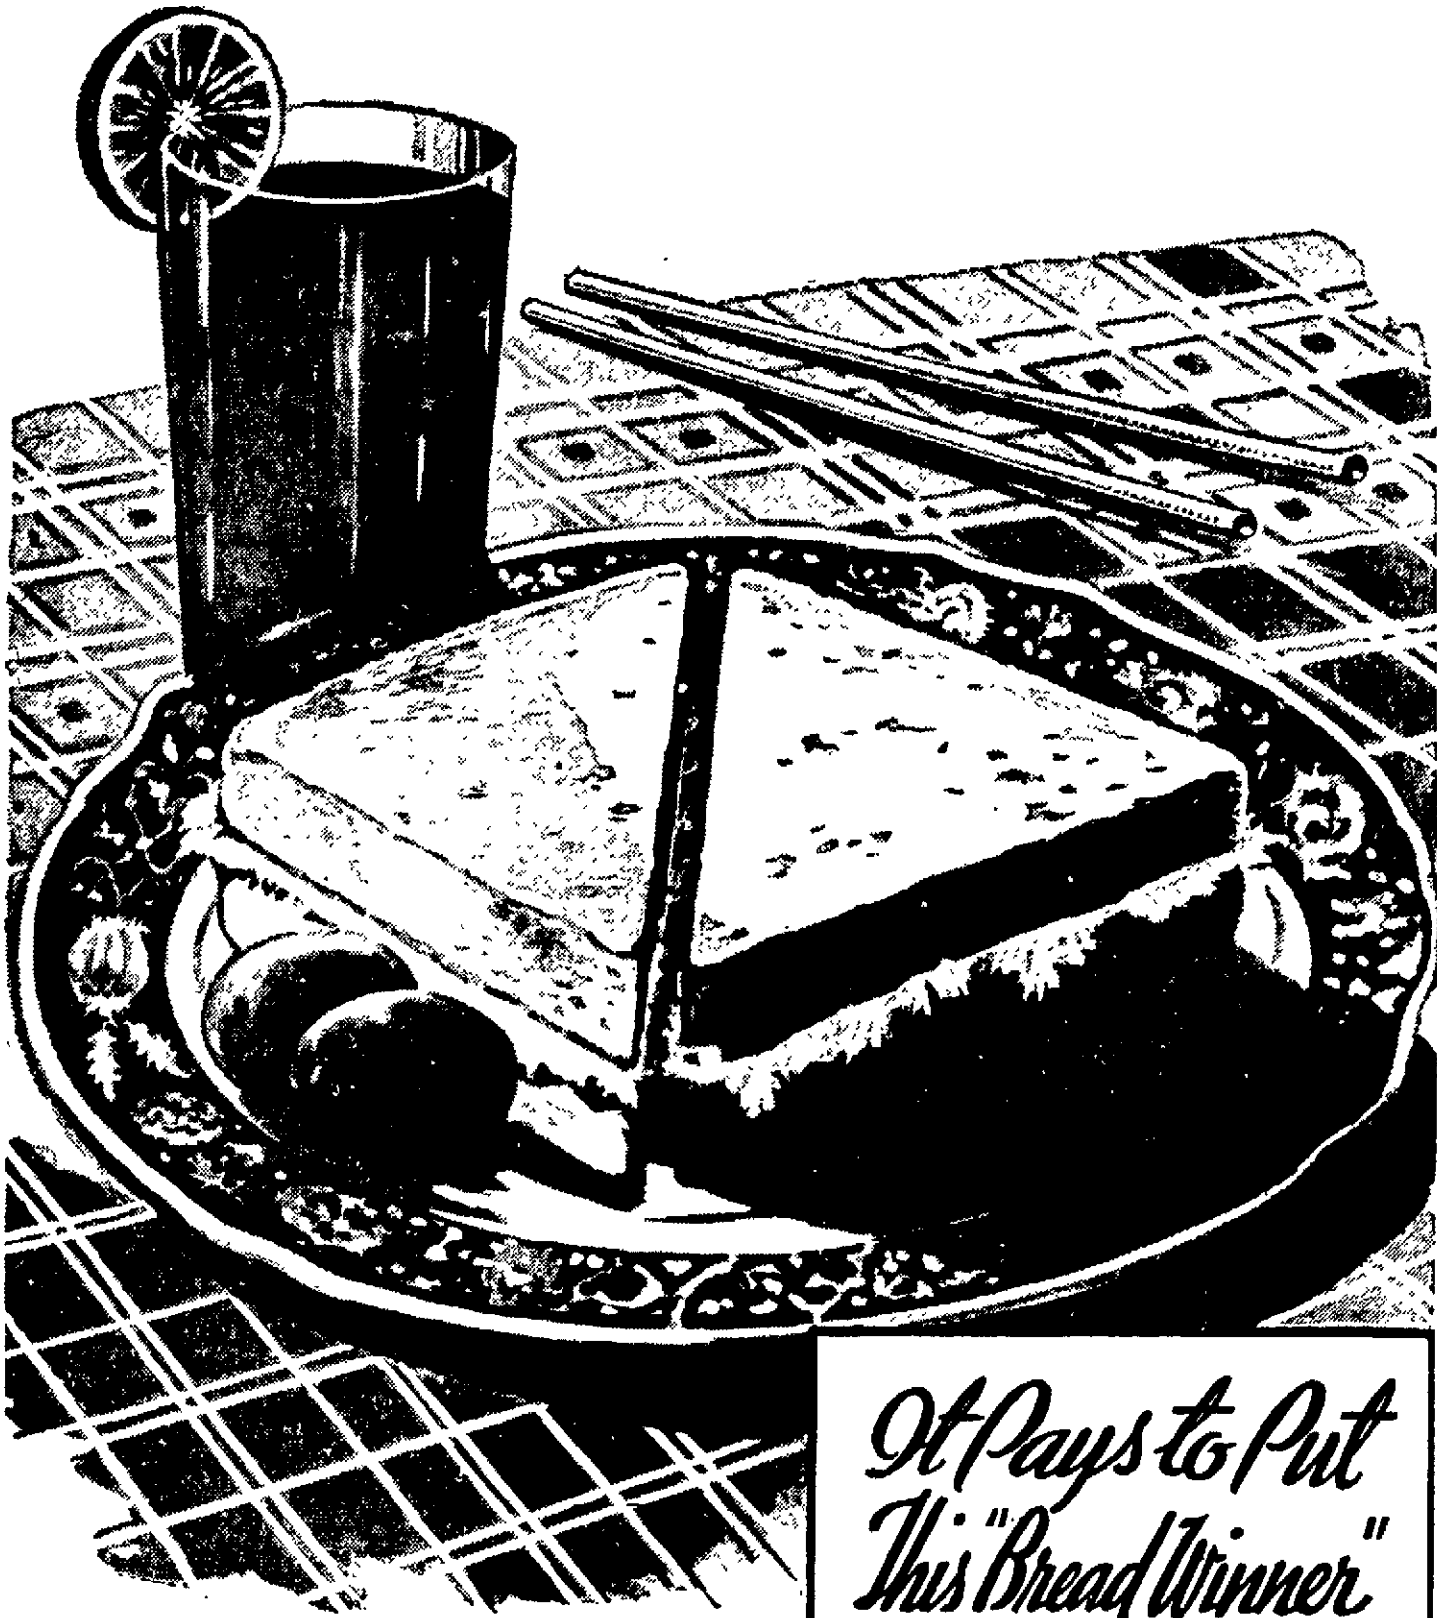

The blind workers made many articles which are suitable for gifts. For the children you will find worsted bunnies, calico bunnies with long ears and pink eyes, stuffed dolls and animals, puzzles, toys and games. Then there are the washable suede card table covers, the luncheon sets and cloths, fancy hearth and whist brooms, leather goods and the new metal dishes, trays and napkin clips.

The Kingston sale for the blind is being sponsored by the Kingston Lions Club. Gordon Craig is general chairman and Mrs. Joseph H. Craig is co-chairman. Mrs. Harry Harrison is general treasurer.

On Saturday the following committees will have charge of the sale: 10 to 2 p. m., Redeemer Lutheran, Mrs. Edward Geschwinder, chairman; Miss Julia Walter, Mrs. Anton Berulson, Mrs. Joy Rosa, Mrs. James Rowe, Mrs. Alvin Bruce, Mrs. Edw. Kolts, Mrs. A. Messinger, Mrs. Edw. Luedtke, Mrs. Clarence Rowland, Mrs. George Kirchner, Mrs. Andrew Anderson.

2 p. m. to 5:30, St. Peter's Catholic, Mrs. Frank J. Rist, chairman; Mrs. Henry Bruck, Mrs. Thomas Kearney, Mrs. Mary Fox, Mrs. Albert Bott, Mrs. Robert Carter, Miss Laura Albrecht, Miss Marie Dugan.

Chapter One

Face To Face With A Firebug

KAY CRANDON pulled her mount in for a breathing spell, as she topped the steep rise to the eastern ridge of the Bitter Root mountains. Below her, through the scant growth of pine and tamarack that timbered the ridge, she could see the glistening water of a lake, and beyond, the sharp, magnificent peaks of the Cabinet range, that rose precipitously from the valley floor.

The breathless stillness of the warm September afternoon was unbroken, save for the blowing of Kay's roan horse, and the creaking of saddle leather, as he shifted his weight and turned an inquiring head toward his mistress.

Kay laughed softly, as she slipped off her broad-brimmed hat and fanned herself with it.

"Don't worry, Flicker. I promise we'll get home in time for supper."

She leaned forward to pat his neck, and the sunlight slanting through the pine branches gleamed on a mass of auburn curls that glinted back, as though celebrating their release from the rigid confinement of the unyielding hatband. Microscopic beads of perspiration stood on Kay's forehead, and she dropped the reins over her pommel as she pulled out a handkerchief and wiped them off.

"No use hurrying, Flicker," she soothed, as her mount again stirred restively. "If it's hot as this up

Several hundred feet below her, a man was piling up some brush and dried needles in a seemingly purposeful fashion against a dead tree that reared its russet height in sharp relief against the green of its neighbors. As though sensing observation, he paused suddenly and listened, glancing furtively over his shoulder. Then, evidently assuring himself that he had been mistaken, he went on with his strange task.

Her throat tight, and her eyes right, all evidence to the contrary, flashed over her.

Kay's lifetime on the range had made her a keen judge of men, and something instinctively told her that this man wasn't bad. In spite of his desperate look, his eyes were honest, and his mouth was straight and decent, and yet—

She hardened herself against the unreasoning sympathy that stole over her, and steeled herself to play her part in bringing him to justice.

"You've Never Been Hungry?"

"THROW out your gun!" she commanded.

The man's shoulders twitched into a shrug. "I haven't any." His voice reflected the despair of his general attitude, and in spite of her suspicion, Kay felt the ring of truth in it.

"You were about to set a forest fire," she accused.

The man made no attempt to deny it.

"What if I was?" he challenged harshly. "Why not?"

"Why not?" Kay echoed, her voice shrill with indignation, surprise at such a question. The thought flashed over her that the man must be a lunatic, but she instantly dismissed it; there was nothing insane about the eyes that gazed at her with bitter intensity. "Yes, why not? What harm

"Throw out your gun!" Kay commanded. She steeled herself against sympathy, for this man who looked honest and decent despite his action.

here, it will be even warmer in the valley."

Kay paused a moment, and then added half aloud and half to herself:

"Babs is having supper at the Flying Six, and with Aunt Kate away, there's no special reason to get back early. I may as well go out on my point, and give us both a bit of a rest."

Suiting the action to the words, Kay dismounted, and flinging Flicker's reins over his head, left him on the trail, as she made her way along a rocky ledge that led to a projecting cliff. From here a magnificent panorama of the surrounding country could be seen.

Stretching out at full length, with her elbows propped on the smooth granite, and her chin resting on her hands, Kay gave a long sigh of satisfaction. This was one of her favorite spots, and it was more than a month now since she had been here.

Her yellow brown eyes half closed in the drowsy warmth of the sun that beat on her relaxed body, Kay thought back to the last strenuous month. Everything had seemed to happen at once, and the climax had been reached when Aunt Kate had fallen and broken her hip, and had to go to the hospital.

"If Dad were only here!" Sudden tears dimmed Kay's eyes as this thought, that was always uppermost in her mind, half unconsciously forced itself, but she resolutely forced them back. There had been no time for tears in the last year, since the tragic death of her father, when Kay had decided to stick to the ranch, and make a home for her young sister, and her great aunt.

It had been no small undertaking for a girl of 19, but Kay had braved this first year, and come through, in spite of all predictions to the contrary. Now—

Strange Actions

WITH a sudden exclamation, Kay brought her reminiscing to an abrupt halt, and sat up straight, leaning forward with tense muscles, as she gazed intently down the ridge.

blazing with raging indignation, as the meaning of his peculiar actions flashed over her. Kay slipped off the rock, and back into the shadow of the pines. Pulling out her gun, she started a rapid and noiseless descent toward the spot that she had seen from above.

Her heart beat like a trip-hammer as she realized that she probably had spotted the firebug that the whole county had been looking for. During the last two months, a series of forest fires had broken out, and only the vigilance of the fire patrols had saved the region from disastrous losses. The conviction that the fires were of incendiary origin had gradually grown, although no one had been able to prove it.

Her indignation completely blotting out any thought of fear for herself, Kay slowed down and steadied her nerves with an iron grip as she noiselessly slipped from one tree trunk to another.

She could see the russet color of the dead pine now, and the outline of the pile of brush at its base. The crash of the dried branches as they were stacked up on the side of the pile away from her told her that she was in time. With her heart in her throat, she hurried forward.

She rounded the pile and pointed her gun at the stooped figure of the man, who was bent over, propping a long branch against the others.

Her clear "Throw 'em up!" rang through the woods in no uncertain tones.

Whirling about, the man straightened and faced her, then slowly obeyed the command, his eyes fixed at first on the gleaming barrel of the gun that covered him, then lifting to meet Kay's stern gaze.

would it do to burn off the timber on this ridge? There are plenty of men to fight it, and keep it from reaching any of the ranch houses. Plenty of men!" he repeated, with a wild, harsh laugh. "That's the only job a man can get these days—fire fighting."

At Kay's shocked look, he added fiercely: "You've never been hungry, have you? Or seen your mother and sister hungry? Why shouldn't I make a job for myself?"

A conversation Kay had overheard between two of the punchers, to the effect that the fires were being started by the desperate landless, employed to give themselves jobs, flashed into her mind, as he blazed these questions at her.

"You mean to say," she faltered, "that you've been setting these fires because—"

"I haven't been setting them," he broke in. "Believe it or not, this is my first attempt. God, I couldn't even pull that off!"

With sudden reckless disregard of Kay's gun, he pulled his hands down over his face, then dropped them to his sides, and faced her with his burning black eyes.

"What are you going to do about it?"

Kay met his question with another.

"And you mean that your mother and sister are—actually hungry?"

He gave a wild laugh. "No; they're not hungry right this minute, and they won't be for another couple of days. Do you want to know why? Because I stole some food for them! That's why!"

He straightened up and reiterated his defiant question.

"What are you going to do about it?"

Camp Happyland Record Attendance

It was stated today at headquarters of the Ulster County Committee on Tuberculosis and Public Health that more applications for admission to Camp Happyland had been received to date than any of the previous years the camp has been in existence.

The capacity of the camp is 48. The boys come to their vacation health land this year the second of July and the girls August 2. Every township of Ulster county is eligible to send children between the ages of 6 and 12 years who are contacts of tuberculosis patients—but not ill with the disease—children who are physically below par or recovering from illness and who would not otherwise be able to have a period of convalescence as is provided at Camp Happyland. All applications must be in the committee office before June 15. When all names are in, the 96 children from the county and city whom it is felt need this care most, will be forwarded letters of acceptance with instructions as to required clothing, rules governing visiting, etc.

Any interested individual desiring to make application for a child to camp should write to Miss Katherine M. Murphy, county nurse, 74 John street, Kingston, and all information will be gladly forwarded.

The camp is maintained by the sale of Christmas Seals. It is located on Clifton avenue in Kingston on a beautiful location and affords to its guests every facility for a happy and healthful vacation.

Ulster Park Ladies' Aid
Ulster Park, June 16—The regular monthly meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of the Reformed Church will be held Thursday, June 17, at the home of Mrs. Clarence Cole at 2:30 p. m. There will be a special missionary program and a good attendance is desired.

Miss Ruth Hotelling is spending a few days in New York city.

Frank Amatrano of the Bronx is spending some time with his family in this place.

Mrs. William Kelder and Mrs. Costello of Bloomington Terrace were evening callers on Sunday evening of the Amatrano family.

Road Crossing Plan May Get Attention Of Council Session

The Common Council will meet in special session on Thursday evening at 7:30 o'clock to act on the report of the laws and rules committee to which committee was referred the resolution offered by Alderman Robertson of the Third Ward, calling on the Public Service Commission to order the elimination of all railroad crossings in the city.

Just what the laws and rules committee will report is not known, but it is known that the committee has been endeavoring to suggest some action that will meet with the approval of the entire council.

The special meeting has been called by Acting Mayor John J. Schwenk, president of the council.

SCIENTISTS GO FAR TO VIEW ECLIPSE

Two Groups, Widely Separated, Watch Unusual Event.

New York.—When one of the most remarkable eclipses in 12 centuries took place recently, it was observed by two different groups of scientists, one in the middle of the Pacific ocean and the other in Peru.

The National Geographic society—United States Navy expedition selected one of the uninhabited Phoenix islands in the mid-Pacific, 180 miles south of the equator as the best spot from which to make its observations. The total eclipse was visible from this point for four minutes, making it the longest total eclipse in 1,200 years.

The Hayden Planetarium Grace expedition of the American Museum of Natural History, in New York, went to Peru, from which country it conducted a number of scientific observations for the three and one half minutes of totality at this point. Not only did these scientists observe the eclipse but they, at the same time, dictated to a dictaphone cylinder a record of their observations. This group also took motion pictures and still photographs.

This solar eclipse was unusual in many respects. It started in the Pacific ocean on June 9, on one side of the International Date Line, and ended in Peru on June 8, on the other side of the International Date line. It swept across a path 8,800 miles long. Scientists were very anxious to observe this solar eclipse because on June 8 the moon would be about as close to the earth as it ever is, and the earth would be about as far from the sun as it ever gets. In addition, the eclipse occurred when the center of the sun, the moon and the earth were in a straight line.

Bank of England to Be Immune Against Bombs

London, England.—Nine hundred men, toiling in secret, are making the new Bank of England an impregnable fortress that will defy fire, flood, burglary and air bombardment.

No workman engaged on the job is allowed to give information concerning the new building, and bank officials have sealed lips.

Behind its stately facades the new bank contains many wonders. Fifty feet below street level are the world's strongest strong-rooms, capable of holding $750,000,000 in gold bullion. There are fifty underground vaults, each surrounded by a wall of steel and concrete eight feet thick. Dynamite would be useless against them and heavy bomb attacks would not shake them.

Massive steel doors, guarding the entrances to the vaults, are opened and closed by electric power. In the event of invasion or any emergency, it would be possible to flood the vaults.

As a further precaution, the new bank has its own electric power station.

British Marriages Rise While Divorces Decline

London, England.—The popular belief that the marriage and birth rates of Great Britain are falling off and that the population is declining is disproved by the latest statistics issued by the registrar general.

The figures show that there were in 1935, the last period of calculation, more marriages, more babies and fewer divorces.

The marriage rate was 17.2 persons per 1,000 population, compared with 16.9 in 1934 and 15.3 in 1932. There were 598,756 births.

The population of England and Wales is now estimated at 40,645,000. At the 1931 census it was 39,952,337.

The number of decrees nisi made absolute in respect of dissolution or annulment of marriage was 4,069—a decrease of 218 from the high record of 1934.

Scotland Yard Again Is Asking for Women Police

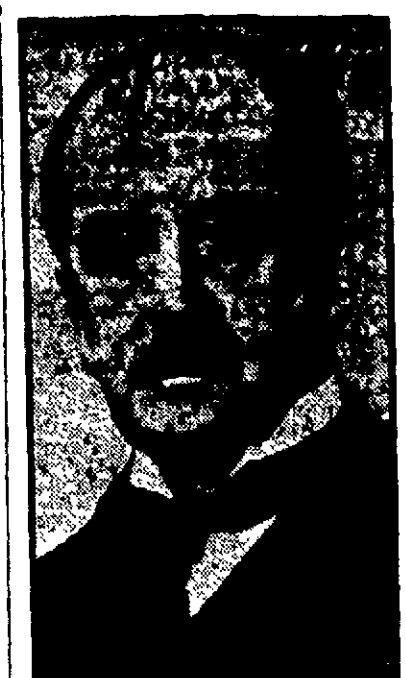

London.—Scotland Yard once more is advertising for women police.

Although applications have been pouring in from all types of women, including university graduates, most of these have been discouraged by the stiff requirements.

A woman candidate for the Metropolitan police force must be a paragon of virtue, intellect and beauty.

The qualities she must possess include a sound heart and lungs, good sight, hearing and speech, fine teeth, clear complexion, free from all physical defects, an alert mind, graces of character and disposition, with emphasis on cleanliness, tolerance and sense of humor, and the ability to wear well any type of clothes from rough country tweed to the most elaborate evening dresses.

AUTHOR STRICKEN ILL

Sir James Barrie, famed English writer and dramatist, was reported seriously ill in London, where he was said to be suffering from an attack of bronchial pneumonia.

Refuses to Tell Wedding Details

Hollywood, Calif., June 16 (AP)—Smiling but serious, Jeanette MacDonald refused today to disclose a single detail of arrangements for the wedding tonight which will make her the bride of Gene Raymond, yellow-haired movie actor.

"I'm superstitious," she said. "It's bad luck to tell those things."

Officials at M-G-M studios, where the actress is under contract, said they didn't know. Her friends professed ignorance. The 11 bridal attendants said they were sworn to secrecy.

Hollywood knows it will be a lavish affair, the first big church wedding in the movie colony since that June day, 10 years ago, when Vilma Banky became Mrs. Rod LaRocque, and Beverly Hills police had to call out the reserves.

Since that time, virtually every Hollywood wedding has been private.

Aged Woman Found Dead in Her Home

Miss Anna McCall, 73, of 87 Pearl street, was found dead in her home Tuesday afternoon. Dr. John F. Larkin, who had been called, notified the police department of the sudden death of the aged woman, and Coroner Leston DuBois of New Paltz was called. Sergeant Charles Phinney investigated the death and according to his report death was due to an acute heart condition.

Coroner DuBois turned the body over to Undertaker Joseph McAuliffe and services will be held from McAuliffe Funeral Home, 249 Wall street, on Friday morning at 8:45 o'clock and thence to St. Joseph's Church, where at 9 o'clock a Mass of requiem will be offered. Burial will be in St. Mary's Cemetery. She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Ella Hohen, of this city.

Fireworks May Be Sold Only 2 Days

Under the provisions of the new fireworks ordinance adopted last August by the common council, only two days are allowed for the sale of fireworks in the city. The provision reads: No person "shall offer for sale or display any fireworks on or before the second day of July or after the fourth day of July of each year, it being the intention to give the retailer two business days previous to the Fourth of July to sell his stock."

Also the ordinance provides that no fireworks may be discharged at any time except on the Fourth of July or the day celebrated as such. As the Fourth of July this year falls on a Sunday, it will be celebrated on Monday, which means that no fireworks may be discharged on Sunday, but may be set off on Monday.

Cat Poisoner at Work in Kingston

It was reported to the police department Tuesday afternoon that a cat poisoner was at work in the vicinity of Lucas avenue, and that several cats had been poisoned in the last few days. One of the persons whose pet had been poisoned notified the police of the poisoning.

ANOTHER LABOR POST MAY BE HEADED BY WOMAN

Washington, June 16 (AP)—The death of Rep. William P. Connery, Jr., (D., Mass.) may place a second woman in an important government labor post. Rep. Mary T. Norton (D., N. J.) is entitled by seniority to succeed Connery as chairman of the House Labor Committee—a position which requires frequent conferences with Miss Frances Perkins, Secretary of Labor.

Avenues Of Fashion with Esquire AND TALKS ON MATTERS MASCULINE HERE'S TO DAD!

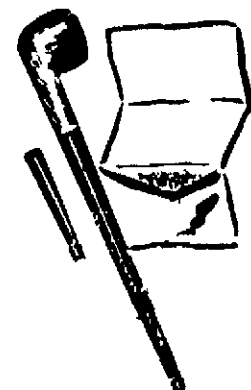

June 20th is Father's Day, so today's dissertation is directed to the mothers and children of the family. It's a sentimental day, a day to let yourself go and really make a fuss over Dad. Serve him his favorite dishes, let him do what he wants to do for a change.

And this time buy him what he really wants. All year round, the poor, long-suffering man gives and gives Sunday is his time to get.

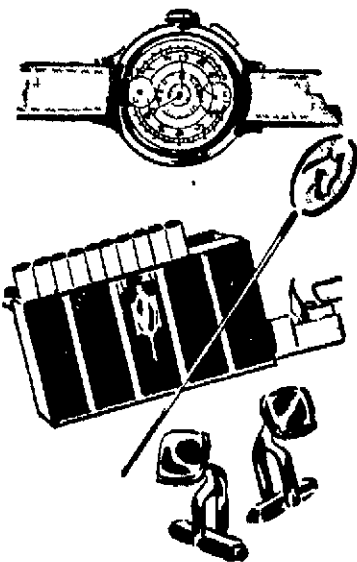

Don't rush out at the last minute and buy him a 25c handkerchief or a box of "El Ropo" cigars and consider your duty done. Don't select a tie that he will gallantly put on before he leaves home and change as soon as he gets to the office. He rates the better things in life... luxuries he wouldn't ordinarily buy for himself.

You might as well be practical and present him with a good-looking flannel robe. A solid color, probably, with contrasting trimming.

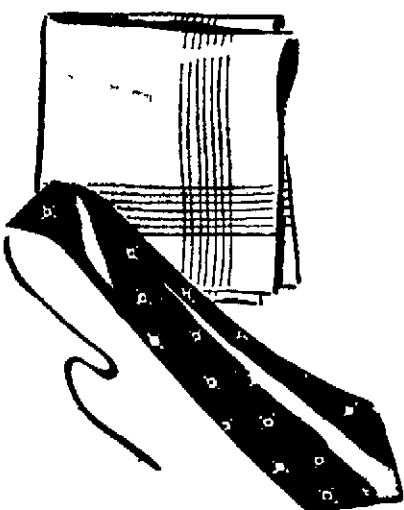

You'll be safe in producing a Church Warden pipe with interchangeable stem that gives him the "long or short of it." And with the pipe, a good-looking tobacco pouch.

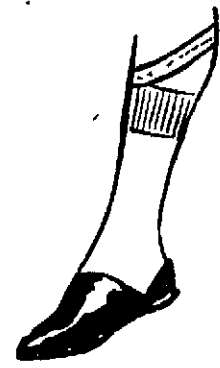

There's a new cigarette case out that's a beauty and a marvel of efficiency. The lighter swings out from the side, and the cigarettes pop up at you, all in one easy movement. If you want to give him studs, the latest have an elbow-shaped shank which makes them very comfortable to wear, and a wide choice of stones or designs is available. Sport fans are going in for a new type of wrist or pocket watch, which in addition to being a good timekeeper, is a stop watch, tachometer and telemeter. He would probably like a crystal slipkpin with his favorite sporting motif... dog, horse, sailboat, etc.

Dad's always in the market for more handkerchiefs. But be sure you buy good linen, with borders that are colorful but modest.

If your mind is set on ties, those of satin are now fashionable and are suitable for Dad. Get them with small spaced figures.

No need for him to shuffle noisily about in his house mules. There is a new mule cut high over the instep so that they actually stick on. Patent leather goes with everything. So he needs socks! Present him with the new type socks with washable garters attached.

Had you thought of giving him a summer dress shirt? Cool and comfortable are those with pleated linen bosom, collar and cuffs, and satin-striped voile body. And be sure they are Sanforized. Maybe he needs some new "holder-uppers." If so, why not washable Palm Beach or linen suspenders. They're ideal with his light-colored summer suits.

Is he a camera fan? Did you know that you can buy a movie camera for about $10. Equipped with Univar F 5.6 lens, it takes clear, sharp pictures for about 6c a scene.

How about luggage? There's a new bag out which, when closed, looks just like an ordinary suitcase, but when zipped open, becomes a wardrobe. It can be hung on the wall. It carries 3 suits on hangers, accessories in special pockets, and a compartment for soiled linen.

Esquire's etiq-uey

We've had scores of letters lately from women asking us for suggestions for "something different" to give to their husbands or fathers.

"My husband's favorite hobby is fishing. What new things could I buy for him?"

You might buy him a folding knife with large, rustless steel blade, scissors, corkscrew, pair of tweezers and a hook disgorger all in one. Or, there's a new telescopic folding trout net, which when folded measures 17 inches; and extended is 3 feet by 7 inches. Or, you might get him a fine leather bound reel, an aluminum fly box or a good book on fishing. John Knight has written a peach called "The Modern Angler." And Eric Tavernier's book on "Salmon Fishing" is splendid.

"What could I buy for my Father... something different for about $5? He likes to putter around the garden."

We suggest a new sheath knife that's a combination of machete and hatchet in one. Fine for cutting brush, clearing trails, pruning or tramping.

Wing. Has a keen cutting edge, and the back edge has saw teeth and a keen pruning hook.

"Is there any new radio that could be used in a motor boat?"

There is a new radio that operates on a 6 volt storage battery, and for the first time, on water or in a trailer, brings you domestic and foreign broadcasts with the clarity of the finest city electric set.

"My husband needs shirts, but I don't want to buy him the same old kind. Are there any new types?"

Why not one of the so-called "Personalized" shirts - with initialed cuff buttons that come sewn on the shirt, or the separate French link style - both with single initials of metal which are snapped into the pearl rim. Thoughtful touches like these make him proud as punch, and are supplied with the shirt at no additional cost.

"My husband always wears shirts with 'fused' collars. Can you tell me what this means?"

A fused collar means an attached collar that requires no starch, yet won't wilt, no matter how hot the day. If you launder his shirts yourself, these collars will stand up as if they were starched.

Camp Preumaker Opens on June 26

On June 26 Camp Preumaker will be in full swing. The registrations are coming in and it looks like a full season.

This year the camp director will be Charles Henke, and the assistant will be Francis Phillips, both members of the Y. M. C. A. staff. Counselors will be Warren Kias, Clifford Miller, Harry Gunner and R. Salzman. These men have all had a variety of camp experiences. For several years Coach Kias has had charge of the camp water front.

The camp itself has been undergoing repairs, so that all will be in first class condition upon opening. The cabins have been repainted and new screens and cots have been secured, replacing those worn out.

First Aid equipment is modern and complete in every detail, given by a friend of the "Y" and has been worked out so that it will meet any emergency. This equipment is to be in charge of a registered nurse.

For the last week the camp director has been in communication with government authorities in trying to secure from an Indian reservation, a full blooded American Indian, to assist in lore, nature study and craftwork. Some of these Indian young men and women have been trained especially for this work.

Registration blanks and information may be secured at the local Y. M. C. A. on Broadway. It is advisable to enroll now in order to secure a place in camp, since enrollment is limited.

Stone Ridge, June 15 — On Thursday evening of this week, June 17, regular prayer meeting will be held in Binnewater Chapel. Walter Simpson of Poughkeepsie will speak. With him will be a delegation from his church. Everyone is invited to attend this service.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Sherman and the Misses Hasbrouck of this village attended the Sunday evening services at the Binnewater chapel. Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Simpson entertained Mr. and Mrs. Tracy Sutton and family of High Falls on Sunday. The pupils of the Rock School with their teacher, Miss Beatty, enjoyed a picnic Friday.

Until December 1 Elba, N. Y., June 16 (AP)—New York state's farmers have until December 1 to file application work sheets under the 1937 federal soil conservation program. Roy A. Porter, chairman of the State Soil Conservation Committee, announced today that the date had been postponed from June 15. He estimated that nearly 60,000 farmers would receive between $70 to $80 each.

FLASHES OF LIFE SKETCHED IN BRIEF

Pastor. Wabash, Ind.—Postal clerks were busy today after dispatching a letter addressed to: "Kananinobeaokuhomtepuukai-manasiphilohnokeawewulmakam-akaokalani Judd, Honolulu."

A Wabash family became acquainted with the addresses during a visit to Hawaii several years ago. They call him just "Mr. Judd."

Bride Story. Rochester, N. Y.—A frantic bride called the Rochester Gas and Electric Corporation to complain that her new refrigerator "freezes ice cubes too fast."

Jack Sharkey, sales supervisor, said an electrician rushed to the scene and found ice cubes piled in every available pan, scattered all over the kitchen floor.

"I thought you had to take them out as soon as they froze," the bride told the electrician.

Good Investment. Milwaukee—Edward F. Merbach waited two hours for the right bus—but it was worth $50 an hour to him. He boarded each bus that passed, looked carefully on the floor and got off disappointedly until the right bus came along.

Then he reached under a seat and retrieved the $100 roll of bills he lost two hours earlier on his way home from work. This time he got off with a smile.

Feathered Hobo. Clinton, Ill.—An Illinois terminal system car pulled out of the station for Bloomington, a yellow-rooster roared on his perch on the front wheel trucks, flapped his wings a bit and then settled back to continue the ride.

Selection of Jury to Try Mrs. Tiernan Nears Completion

Riverhead, N. Y., June 16 (AP)—Selection of a jury to try Mrs. Helen Tiernan, 28, on charge of killing her seven-year old daughter, Helen, a month ago, neared completion in Supreme Court here today.

Only one more juror and two alternates remained to be chosen as the case entered the third day.

Mrs. Tiernan allegedly slashed and set fire to her daughter at a picnic near Brookhaven, Long Island.

The state charges she killed her daughter and attempted to murder her four-year old son Jimmy so that she might be more free to carry on a love affair with George Christodulus, 29.

Christodulus, a restaurant steward, is held as a material witness.

PRESIDENT TO MEET WITH 400 CONGRESSMEN

Washington, June 16 (AP)—President Roosevelt will confer with more than 400 Democratic congressmen about general legislative problems during an outing at secluded Jefferson Island Club in Chesapeake Bay, beginning June 25.

An Awful Racket Ends

Perry, N. Y., June 16 (AP)—The Congregational Church furnace had a big patch today but deacons hoped next Sunday's services can be conducted without interruption. The Rev. Charles E. Opyke operated on the heater with tin snips after a disturbance from below drowned out even the organ. A neighborhood Scottish terrier stepped out of the opening carrying a dead woodchuck in its teeth.

Final Arguments

Buffalo, N. Y., June 16 (AP)—Only final arguments remained to be heard today before a jury starts deliberating whether to send 19-year-old Tommy Smith to the electric chair for the slaying of Mary Ellen Babcock. Supreme Court Justice Samuel J. Harris allowed District Attorney Walter C. Newcomb and Defense Counsel Joseph L. Newton an hour each for their pleas.

2 Sheep-Killers Killed

Perry, N. Y., June 16 (AP)—Fighting bare-handed, two farmers early today captured and killed two sheep-killing dogs. Awakened by cries of sheep, Lloyd McIntyre and Fred Popp found two sheep dead in their pasture. Others were mangled. Two dogs circled about with bared fangs. Closing in, the men grabbed the dogs. McIntyre was thrown four times by one but he and Popp finally killed both with stones.

Police Board May Defer Appointments

The Board of Police Commissioners will hold a regular monthly meeting Thursday evening at the city hall, but it is not expected that the board will make any appointment of sergeants, owing to the absence of the mayor, who is confined to his home by illness.

The board when it does act will appoint four sergeants from an eligible list that has been filed with it by the Municipal Civil Service Commission. It will also elevate Sergeant Phinney and Sergeant Simpson to the rank of lieutenant.

Heir to Bulgarian Throne.

Sofia, Bulgaria, June 16 (AP)—Queen Giovanna, wife of King Boris, gave birth today to a son who may some day rule Bulgaria, and military garrisons throughout the land fired salutes of 100 guns. There would have been only 21 for a girl. The mother and the little crown prince were reported in excellent health.

Pre-Natal Clinic

The Pre-Natal Clinic will be held at the Benedictine Hospital on Friday, June 18, from 1 to 2 o'clock. Expectant mothers who attend this clinic will receive medical care and advice. This clinic is under the direction of Dr. Francis O'Connor and Dr. Thomas Crowley.

Malaga Bombed, 3 Killed

Seville, Spain, June 16 (AP)—Two Spanish government planes bombed Malaga, Mediterranean seaport, killing three dock workers and wounding eight, insurgents reported today. The planes fled eastward toward Almeria after anti-aircraft batteries opened fire.

Union Builds Home for Widow of Member

Port Arthur, Tex.—One hundred members of the building trades unions, here, wishing to do something for the widow of one of their members recently killed in an accident, each contributed a day's work and constructed a new four-room home for her. PLANS FOR WEST PARK DAHLIA, FLOWER SHOW
Highland, June 15.—The West Park Dahlia and Flower Show, held under the auspices of the members of the Church of the Ascension, West Park, is now being planned. The date for this year's show has been set for Thursday, September 9. As usual, it will be held in the Parish House.
Flower growers are invited to enter their exhibits. The professional and non-professional classes will be judged separately, and there will be first, second and third prize ribbon awards in each class.
The chairman for this year's show is Mrs. William Annin Van Ben-schoten of West Park. Mrs. Alton Brooks Parker, for years chairman of the show, has been elected honorary chairman.
This will be the eighth annual show given by the Church of the Ascension.
Persons.
Highland, June 15.—Entertained over the week-end at Queen Anne Cottage by Miss Eliza Raymond, was Miss Mary Montgomery of East Orange, N. J., the Misses Dorothy Haight and Ruth Forsberg of Four-keeps, Mrs. Fred Lewis Wall, Raymond Haight came down from Pt. Henry and on his return was accompanied by Mrs. Haight and their son, David. Mrs. Dora Haight remained for a longer stay.
The meeting of the U. D. Society will be held Saturday afternoon at the Stone House with Mrs. J. William Feister as hostess.
Mrs. Susan K. Ploss attended the graduation of her son from dental college in Boston on Monday and Miss Belle Brinkerhoff substituted for her in the first grade.
Mr. and Mrs. Jay J. Hasbrouck, who accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Percy Schoonmaker, left Auburn at 4 o'clock Saturday morning and were to reach Des Moines, Ia., Sunday afternoon. Mr. and Mrs. Hasbrouck having rented their apartment here, plan to stay with relatives in the central west for three months.
The experts were wrong when they said Texas would have only 80,000 old age pensioners. The rolls now list 120,000 and are still growing with the system in effect less than a year.

At The Theatres

Today

Broadway: "Call It A Day". Warner Brothers have constructed a fine picture at the Broadway, a family play that breathes reality through the spirited and capable work of Roland Young, Alice Brady and Ian Hunter. Directed by Archie Mayo, the cast also includes Olivia De-Havilland, Frieda Inescort, Peggy Wood, Beryl Mercer and Bonita Granville.
Kingston: "Melody for Two" and "That I May Live". Double features continue on the Kingston screen, the first a melodic effort with the singing James Melton starred and supported by Patricia Ellis, the second a love story of average scope with Rochelle Hudson.
Orpheum: "Champagne Waltz". A combination of classical and modern music is to be heard at the downtown theatre with Gladys Swarthout supplying the Metropolitan atmosphere and Fred MacMurray swing it with a dance orchestra. Good musical entertainment.

Tomorrow

Broadway: Same.
Kingston: Same.
Orpheum: Same.

KRIPPLEBUSH.

Krippebush, June 15.—Murry Moskowsky, Donald Christiansa, Lewis Van Aken, Katherine Van Aken, Alene Vandenburgh, Milford Ven, Denmark, Ruth McDonough and Dorothy Sturzenburg are taking Regents at Accord this week.
Mr. and Mrs. Irwin H. Barley of Ellenville spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Claude Christiansa and family.
Mr. and Mrs. Frank Schramm entertained a number of friends and relatives on Sunday.
The musical has been postponed until a later date as some of the cast were unable to come on June 13. Walter Spieser spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. J. Moskowsky and family.
Frank Schramm, Jr., has left for Bedford Springs, Pa., where he has employment for the summer.

Hollywood Sights And Sounds

By ROBBIN COONS

HOLLYWOOD—That dime or quarter the schoolgirl puts on the line to see Garbo love Robert Taylor may be compounded, for all she knows, of close-ups of Garbo loving Fredric March.

The chances of such romantic association between screen love and prosaic coins admittedly are small. Yet dreams have been made on lesser stuff, and if the thought gives any sensation of intimacy with Taylor I have no doubt that John Nickolaus will say "You're welcome, girls!"
Nickolaus is the brain-daddy of the "silver mine in a tank" at the Metro studios, where the reclamation of the precious metal from celluloid is a sideline activity of the laboratories.

$50,000 In Silver

The tank-mine produces upward of $50,000 in silver annually. But the silver itself, nice as it is to have around, is not the whole object of the process. This exists in order to save and re-use the hypophosphite of soda solution used to "fix" film.
Developed film is "fixed" or made permanent by being passed through the "hypo" solution, which makes the film transparent and by removing all the free silver and leaving the metal only on the darkened portions of the picture. The released silver eventually accumulates to an extent where the solution can absorb no more, hence is useless.
At this point it is pumped into cells, or wooden tanks, in which an electric current is shot through, and the silver particles leap to the arms of Taylor. How Taylor fared you saw in "Camille," but all that happens to the aluminum plates is that they get electroplated with the silver. When this is done, the "hypo" is fresh and usable again, and is pumped back into the developing machines.

Molded Into Bricks

The silver is then cracked off the plates, melted down into bricks, and sold. That's how the schoolgirl's coin may trace its lineage, perhaps, to the by-products of screen romance.

In silent days the exhausted "hypo" was thrown away. Then a chemical firm approached studios, offering to haul the stuff away for nothing. Cecil B. DeMille became curious, learned that silver was being reclaimed, and by removing all the free silver and leaving the metal only on the darkened portions of the picture. The released silver eventually accumulates to an extent where the solution can absorb no more, hence is useless.

DO YOU LAUGH AT DREAMS?

Even Silly Dreams Have Secret Warnings

"What a silly dream I had. It doesn't make sense at all!" you often tell your friends laughingly. But psychologists say all our dreams make sense. Often they give us warnings which, if we know how to read them, can keep us from misfortune.

You dream of finding money. You hope your dream is a sign of luck. But it isn't. It shows that you spend your energies merely wishing for the good things of life to come to you. You're not really working for them.

Do you dream you're a prisoner, bound in chains, sealed in a building or even buried alive? That means you're in trouble and taking no steps to get out of it. In your dream you excuse yourself for doing nothing.

"You see," you're telling yourself, "I'm powerless to help myself."

Such warnings can help you strengthen weak spots in your character, to build a happier and more successful life.

Dreams in which you pull yourself out of a tight spot—or turn on the snarling beasts and chase them off—show that you're confident and well adjusted in your waking hours.

Some dreams, however, are simply the effect of your surroundings on you. A chilly breeze sweeps over you—you imagine you're in the Antarctic. Your arm slides off the edge of the bed—you dream of hurtling from dizzy heights.

Our 40-page booklet, INTERPRETING YOUR DREAMS, helps you understand your own dreams in the light of modern psychology.

Send 15c for our booklet, INTERPRETING YOUR DREAMS, to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Institute, 109 West 19th Street, New York, N. Y. Write plainly your name, address, and the name of booklet.

1 tablespoon butter
1/2 cup grated cheese

Arrange the chops which should be half an inch thick in a shallow pan. Surround them with the tomato slices and top the slices with the rest of the ingredients. Broil 4 inches below a glowing flame. Baste every 3 minutes with dripping from the chops. (It will require about 10 minutes for the foods to cook.) Turn the chops several times to allow even browning.

A grill requires constant watching during cooking, but the time required is quite short and the results are very tasty. This type of cooking is especially advised for summer, when time in the kitchen should be cut as short as possible.

All Stocks Showed Recovery Tuesday

In a $30,000 share market Tuesday all stocks showed, on average, a fair recovery from the break Monday. The Dow-Jones averages showed industrials gaining 1.89 points Tuesday; rails were up 0.43 point and utilities 0.25 point. Grains gained sharply and commodities as a whole averaged higher. Adverse European crop conditions and crop damage in Saskatchewan were factors in the grain situation. Rubber was higher. Cotton steadied under foreign buying and reports of weevil infestation in the south. Corporate bonds were lower; governments easier.

Washington reports show that, at the rate of increase shown so far this month, the U. S. Treasury's inactive gold fund should pass the one billion mark within the next few days. On June 12 the fund amounted to more than $941,000,000. Yesterday New York reported receipt of $28,528,200 gold from foreign sources. At the same time there is no indication that the treasury plans to alter its gold sterilization program.

Canadian newspaper output in May was up 15.8 per cent over a year ago; U. S. production was up 4.3 per cent.

The Hupp Motor Co. plans to resume production after a shutdown of more than a year. Will produce 240 cars, 1938 model, next month, for export. Will start production of 1938 models August 1, according to President Tom Bradley. Capacity of the plant is around 100,000 cars a year.

Paramount Pictures earned $786,000 in April compared with $293,000 a year ago, according to President Balaban.

Erie reports May net operating income of $1,411,662, vs. $1,277,924 year ago. Kansas City Southern had net loss of $5,361 in April, against net income of $44,503 in 1936 month.

Pennsylvania Railroad's April net income of $2,279,155 compares with $3,956,678 in April 1936. Long Island had net loss of $169,454 in April vs. $89,894 in 1936 period.

Detroit Edison declared mid-year dividend of $2 ($1 extra and $1 quarterly was paid a year ago).

American Manufacturing lowered its common dividend to $2 from $3.

Steel strike peace negotiations collapsed yesterday as representatives of Youngstown Sheet & Tube and Republic Steel walked out of Governor Davey's peace conference in Columbus, Ohio, announcing that there would be no more conferences.

Mayor Shields of Johnstown, Pa., swore in a "Citizen Army" of 3,000 and announced a back to work march in Cambria plant of Bethlehem Steel for today.

New York, June 16 (AP).—The stock market showed a calm front in the face of disturbing strike news today, slipping unevenly on small volume.

Interest in shares shrank as the session progressed, with the stock ticker frequently coming to a halt. Transactions ran at the rate of 600,000 shares.

Traders were in a gloomy mood, brokers said, owing to indications of heightened hostility along the independent steel company front.

Fears the conflict would be protracted, analysis said, centered on the reiterated refusal of heads of Republic Steel and Youngstown Sheet & Tube to sign C. I. O. contracts.

Issues under a little pressure were Republic Steel, Inland Steel, Yellow Truck, General Motors, U. S. Rubber, Montgomery Ward, Sears Roebuck, Anaconda, Kennecott, Santa Fe, New York Central, Southern Pacific, Great Northern Preferred and C. P. R.

There was mild demand for American Steel Foundries, U. S. Steel, Bethlehem Steel, Youngstown Sheet & Tube, Chrysler, Oliver Farm Equipment, Consolidated Edison, Electric Power & Light, Standard Oil of New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Grains were mixed, cotton higher. The pound sterling sagged and the French franc gained. Bonds were steady.

As some observers saw it, the decline in grains, cotton, rubber and other staples seems to have spent itself. If this be true, some argue, this would be a constructive element which might bolster equity prices.

IRVING KROM RETURNED TO SING SING PRISON TODAY.

Irving Krom, who was picked up a week or so ago by Parole Officer Locke, and who since has been held at the Ulster county jail, was today taken by Officer Locke to Sing Sing prison, where he will serve out the balance of his term.

Krom, who was taken into custody on charges of parole violation, originally was sentenced to serve a term of from two to four years, following his conviction on a charge of arson. He had been out some time on parole.

Exports of American automotive products this spring were the greatest in value since the spring of 1930.

Finley Held for The Grand Jury as A Drunken Driver

Earl L. Finley, of 25 Adams street, this city, who was injured about the head in an automobile accident last Friday afternoon and who has been in the Kingston Hospital for treatment, was arrested today by Troopers Reddy and Sweeney, who charged him with driving while intoxicated.

He was arraigned before Justice Walter Webber as a second offender and was held for appearance before the grand jury.

Finley was injured when his car left the highway, on 3-W, near its junction with the Neighborhood road, struck a couple of trees and then continued on something like 100 feet further before it turned over and stopped, a complete wreck.

Sheriff Says Brown Confessed

The room indicated was next the room where the junk was.

The statement that Brown occupied the room was stricken out on motion of defense counsel as hearsay.

On cross-examination Mari said he could not positively identify the gear as there were many of them made. It looked like the gear which he had seen at the Rappaport home. He said it contained a parts number but there were numerous similar pinion gears made.

Irving Levine was called. He said he knew Brown about six months and Brown had worked for him and Rappaport for about five months. On April 7 Brown worked for Levine and Rappaport.

On the morning of April 8, the day of the Handelman fire and murder Levine said he saw Brown about 3:45 o'clock or 4 o'clock in front of the Rappaport house. It was perhaps 4 o'clock. Brown asked to go along to Port Jervis with the truck.

"Why do you want to go to Port Jervis?" Levine said he asked.

Wanted Fur Coat

Brown said he wanted to get a fur coat in Port Jervis. Levine said he asked Brown if he had money and Brown said he did. Brown took out a roll of bills. At Port Jervis he left the truck and said he would meet the truck at the weighing scales in Port Jervis later that morning. He did not meet them.

Levine said he had seen a gear like the one in evidence at his mother-in-law's place in Ellenville in a parts room next the room Brown occupied. On his return to Ellenville on April 8 he heard of the Handelman matter and went with Sergeant Hopkins to the Rappaport house and looked for the pinion gear but it was gone. He last remembered seeing the gear in the house in December when it was lying on a disc wheel. He had not paid particular notice of the gear after that.

Same Overcoat

On the way to Port Jervis he said Brown wore a cap and black overcoat and blue serge suit. The overcoat in evidence was shown him and he said:

"That is the overcoat Charlie wore."

Cross examined he said he had arisen on April 8 at 3:15 o'clock and left for Port Jervis and the mines about 4 o'clock. They left immediately after Brown had requested a ride to Port Jervis. The doors of the Rappaport house were left unlocked and anyone might have entered the store room where the gear had been seen, the witness said. He said he could not recollect telling Mr. Conway and Mr. Groves on May 21 that Brown said he wanted to pay a balance on a fur coat. He said he did not recall telling the attorneys that day that Brown displayed a "small" roll on the way to Port Jervis. He said he thought it was a "medium size" roll of bills.

Brown worked on the truck for Levine and Rappaport and also worked in the Rappaport fish market, cleaning up and scraping fish and also delivering fish at times. He received his room, board and $6 or $8 a week.

Mrs. King on Stand

Mrs. King was next called. She said she was at work at the Home on April 15 when Brown came to the door and asked for something to eat. She said she had been given a circular the night before by State Trooper bearing Brown's picture and his description and she recognized him from the picture.

As he stood in the door she asked him if he was not Brown and showed him the picture. He replied he was Brown. She told him to come in and he admitted his identity. She said she was going to call the sheriff when Brown asked her to notify the sheriff. She said Brown was in the office while she phoned the sheriff and then she directed him to a rear room where she gave him bread and milk. He said he had been without food four days and was very hungry. Mrs. King said she gave the man food and then called District Attorney Murray's office and told him that she had Brown at the Goshen home. Brown sat quietly in the room and made no effort to escape.

When she told him that the second bowl of bread and milk would satisfy him until he could get a meal he replied:

"They kills me."

Cross examined she said he arrived about 11 o'clock and appeared hungry. He made no effort to escape and admitted his identity. He seemed to be peaceful and quiet during the entire transaction of calling the sheriff.

Sheriff Last Witness

Sheriff William Schoonmaker was the last witness of the morning. He told of being summoned by Mrs. King and taking Brown to Goshen jail. He told of the conversation on the way to jail and of Brown asking to be given the "hot seat" to get it over with. Brown said he got to Goshen from Port Jervis along the railroad tracks.

Asked where he had been for the past few days while they were looking for him, Brown said he had been in the woods for four days. He also told the sheriff he did not know how much money he had got but believed it was between $50 and $100.

Cross examined the sheriff said Brown made no attempt to escape and seemed peaceful and quiet.

On the way to jail Brown was not cuffed. At the jail he was turned over to a deputy sheriff.

Noon recess.

Carey and DeWitt Claims Settled

Surrogate George F. Kaufman has signed orders permitting Dorothy E. DeWitt, as administratrix of the estate of her husband, Preston L. DeWitt, and Myrtle G. Carey, as administratrix of the estate of her husband, Peter A. Carey, to compromise and settle any claims they may have against the New York Central Railroad for the deaths of their husbands, who were killed when the fire truck on which they were riding collided with a train at the West Shore crossing on Broadway, this city, early on the morning of May 15.

According to the settlements approved by Surrogate Kaufman, the DeWitt estate receives $4,050 and the Carey estate $3,050 from the New York Central Railroad. The settlements are in full for all liability on the part of the railroad, but does not preclude actions against the city of Kingston or other parties.

Mrs. DeWitt left beside his widow, Dorothy E. DeWitt, one son, Preston C. DeWitt, 11 years of age. Mr. Carey is survived by his widow, Myrtle G. Carey.

Walter H. Gill is attorney for the administratrix in both estates.

Local Death Record

Frederick Myer, who died on Monday in Saugerties after a long illness, had been a lifelong resident of Saugerties. He was a son of the late Thomas and Catherine Myer. Mr. Myer was employed at the Martin Canine Co. many years until ill health caused him to cease work. He is survived by one brother, Heikah Myer, of Brooklyn; and one sister, Mrs. Annie Frolich, of Saugerties. He was a member of the Congregational Church. Funeral services were held at the Seamon Bros. Co. chapel this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Interment was in Mountain View Cemetery.

Koala Bear About Half an Inch Long When Born

The koala bear, Australia's most popular native, is a lovable live toy, writes Mason Warner in the Chicago Tribune. He never grows very big. The young are born in an immature state, little more than half an inch in length, and are carried and developed in the mother's pouch for about six months, at the end of which time the baby measures about six inches in length, weighs about six ounces, and sports a fine fur coat.

For three or four months longer the mother carries the cub on her back, where it holds on with its arms around her neck, or clings to her bosom with her protecting arms around it. But the pouch is still used until the young one has grown too big to get into it. Maternal care and protection continue till the cub is a year old. A mother will hold her infant on her lap and fondle and stroke it in almost human fashion. When molested, a little one will whimper and cry like a hurt baby.

The koala reaches maturity at about four years and may live to reach the age of 20. Full grown ones weigh about 30 pounds and measure 24 to 30 inches from tip of nose to where the tail would begin if they had a tail. They range in color from dark gray to brown.

The Australian native bear loves the tall eucalyptus trees and he is adapted to its environment. He can climb the smooth, barkless trees with ease and grace. His powerful limbs and strong, sharp claws enable him to keep his position aloft unperturbed in the fiercest gales.

The koala is the personification of indolent leisure. He does not move about while the sun is high. He sits and sleeps in the crotch of a tree most of the day. He apparently becomes active only to eat, and prefers to go from the limb of one tree to the limb of another rather than descend to the ground.

Courtyards, Patios, in Many New Orleans Homes

One of the characteristics of the old homes in the New Orleans Vieux Carre are the courtyards, or patios, many of which are in a good state of preservation.

To the French, the flagged or brick "backyard" was a court but with the coming of the Spanish to New Orleans the term patio was used and remained in favor. Most of the patios have fountains in the center and gardens of plants and trees which thrive in temperate climate.

Huge wide-mouth, pot-bellied earthen jars that carried overseas the oil from the olive groves of Spain found their way into many of the patios. Originally they were used to catch the rain water from the gutters and downspouts but later for ornamentation.

Patios in New Orleans are not confined to the old section laid out by Bienville who founded the city in 1718. Many of them can be found in the heart of the business district.

Ulster Park 4-H Juniors To Give Play Tonight

The Ulster Park Junior 4-H Club, together with some of the Ulster Park school children, will present a play during the lecture's hour at the Grange meeting to be held at the Ulster Park Community Hall.

The play, "Snow White and the Dwarfs," will be given at 8:15 o'clock.

This play was chosen and cast by the children themselves and has been directed by May Coleman of New York city. The cast in the order of appearance is as follows:

Snow White ..... Alma Vigilante
The Queen, her stepmother, ..... Dorothy Tucker
Queen's maid ..... Phyllis Schulz
Prince ..... John Cicolo
Queen's husband ..... Philipp H. Klein
First Dwarf ..... Valde Vigilante
Second Dwarf ..... Earle Terwilliger
Announcer ..... Gerhild Weiser
Edward R. Bowers, new Ulster county 4-H agent, will also be present and will show a motion picture of the Glacier and other national parks.

The lecturer program is in charge of Mrs. Raphael Klein, Ulster Park 4-H home-making leader. The public is invited.

Strawberry Festival.

Housewives who find warm weather desserts a problem and a bother will have one meal on Thursday without worry. Delicious desserts will be served at St. John's Church by the members of the Men's Club. Beginning at 6:30 old-fashioned strawberry shortcake with whipped cream, homemade cake, ice cream, and refreshing drinks of lemonade and iced tea will be served on the lawn.

If the weather is inclement, the strawberry festival will be held in the Parish Hall.

Warren A. Russell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur H. Russell, of Brewster street, received the degree of Bachelor of Arts from Hamilton College on Monday. In addition to the 78 degrees granted to the members of the graduating class, four honorary degrees were also conferred at this time.

Announce Engagement.

The announcement of the engagement of Miss Marjorie Hilborn of 145 Terrace avenue, Hempstead, L. I., to Hazen H. Morse, Jr., of 8 Ardley Boulevard, Garden City, L. I., was made at a party held at the home of Mrs. Madeline Hilborn. The bride-to-be is a daughter of the late Edward Hilborn, who with his family were former residents of Kingston. While here Mr. Hilborn was connected with the New York Telephone Company.

Lawn Social.

"Meadowside" Scene Of Tea And Plant Sale

Mrs. Edward V. Wilber, of Sangerites opened her estate "Meadowside" for the tea and plant sale given by the Ulster Garden Club on Tuesday afternoon.

Garden lovers were in their element wandering through the spacious grounds and gardens. Others were content to sit and view the Hudson and the opposite shore. Stepping into the house, the guests were taken to other lands as they wandered through the rooms furnished with articles collected in all corners of the earth by Mr. and Mrs. Wilber in their extensive travels.

During the afternoon, tea was served on the terrace and in the gardens. Mrs. Gerard Betz, chairman of refreshments was assisted by Mrs. Sanger Carlton, Mrs. Kenneth Davenport, Mrs. Robert Hancock and Mrs. William Shuler, of Kingston. Miss Florence Wilber, of Sangerites, and by a group of Camp Fire Girls under the direction of Mrs. John T. Washburn. Those who poured during the afternoon were Mrs. Frederick Warren, Mrs. H. L. Bibby, Mrs. L. Spencer Dawes, Mrs. William Warren, and Mrs. Charles De La Vergne, Sr.

Biennials, annuals and shrubs were on sale in one corner of the grounds. On the terrace was an exhibition of Mexican ware, a popular attraction. The plant sale committee included Miss Isabel Overhagh, chairman, Mrs. Hermon Kelly, Mrs. Antonio Knauth and Mrs. F. E. W. Darrow. Others assisting at the cake booth and in selling cigarettes were Mrs. Charles Tappen, Mrs. William Van Benschoten, Mrs. C. Wallace Codwise and Mrs. Joseph Fowler.

Mrs. Elise Shaw of Waverly, is visiting friends in Kingston. Mrs. Shaw before her marriage to Dr. Shaw was Miss Vivian Elise Groves of Kingston.

Among those attending the commencement exercises at Albany Medical College on Monday were Mr. and Mrs. Michael Joyce and Mr. and Mrs. James Joyce of this city, the Rev. James P. Hearson of Stony Hollow, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Joyce, Mrs. Lawrence Joyce, Mrs. E. K. O'Reilly, Miss Margaret Britt, Miss Helen Joyce, Russell Groves, Paul Groves, Vincent O'Reilly and Joseph Britt, of West Hurley.

Miss Dorothy Fuller, who has just been graduated from the Connecticut College for Women, has returned to her home on Emerson street.

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Groves of West Hurley attended the Alfred alumni dinner at Alfred University on Saturday night.

Miss Marion C. Davis, of New York city, formerly of Kerkonkson, and Robert L. Longyear, Jr., of Brooklyn, were not married on May 29 as was stated when they procured a license at the marriage bureau in New York city on May 26.

Tea at "Sally Tocks"

The old "Sally Tocks" Tavern of Revolutionary days will again ring with the clatter of tea cups and merry laughter on Saturday afternoon. This tavern, now the private home of Mrs. E. C. Chadbourn, of Stone Ridge, will be opened for a tea and garden party for the benefit of the Stone Ridge Library between the hours of 3 and 6 o'clock. Anyone in Ulster county is invited to come and enjoy the gardens and have afternoon tea.

Free Schools Obligatory in Massachusetts in 1649

A law was passed in Massachusetts in 1649 requiring every township to maintain a free school, and every town of 100 families to maintain a grammar school to "fit youths for the university." and it is recorded in 1693 that a free school was then supported by each town in New England. The Connecticut, Plymouth and New Haven colonies soon followed this example of Massachusetts, either in whole or in part.

The first public school in Pennsylvania was established in Philadelphia by the Quakers, in 1689, free to those who could not pay. In 1694 Maryland enacted that every county should have a public school, and every parish a free library of at least 50 volumes. A free grammar school was established in New York by an act passed in 1702, but a system of free common schools was not inaugurated in this state, according to a writer in the Cleveland Plain Dealer, until after 1793, in which year, on the recommendation of Governor Clinton, the Legislature appropriated $50,000 to encourage the establishment of common schools—not wholly free.

It was years after this before the system of schools free to all (except colored children) went into general operation in New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Illinois, Indiana and Michigan. The southern states waited until after the war before adopting the free-school system even for white children. Their common schools were free only for the children of confessed paupers.

Just who was "the first advocate" of free schools is now impossible to determine. Several of them came over in the Mayflower, as there were a few free schools in Massachusetts before the enactment of 1649, making it obligatory on every town to have them, the chief argument then being that "every child must know how to read the Bible."

Growing Christmas trees may become just as much a farm crop venture as growing wheat or potatoes, if experiments being directed by the U. S. Forest Service are successful.

Made the First Banjo

At the beginning of the Nineteenth century, a native on the island of Banjoemas, Java, wanted a musical instrument of his own, but having no money to buy it, decided to make one for himself. And so, according to "Fact Digest," he took a cheese box, wrapped a goat skin around one end, attached a handle, added violin strings tuned to the first, third, fifth and eighth notes of an octave, and christened it "banjo."

After the first two syllables of the island's name, the idea caught on among the natives, and the instrument eventually arrived in America, where it had a great success. It has achieved international popularity, but when it was first introduced in conventional England it was treated with scorn.

Painting Too Natural

Zeuxis (pronounced Zew-sis), a Greek painter who lived in the latter part of the Fifth century B. C., is said to have painted a bunch of grapes which looked so natural that birds pecked at them. This is supposed to have occurred during a competition between Zeuxis and a young rival named Parrhasius. Zeuxis admitted his rival's superiority when Parrhasius painted a curtain by which the older artist himself was deceived. Pliny gives a somewhat different version of the grape story. He says Zeuxis painted a boy holding grapes towards which birds flew. Zeuxis, commenting upon the incident, remarked that if the boy had been as well painted as the grapes the birds would have been afraid to approach.

Iron ore, the basic material from which iron and steel are made, is found in every state of the union, although not all deposits are suitable for commercial use.

Road Commission Hears Claims on Highland Parcels

The Highland Road condemnation commission held hearings yesterday and today on claims for damages for land taken for the new alignment of 9-W.

Tuesday taking of testimony was concluded in the claim of John P. Whittle, who has a 13-acre tract near Woodside place, Highland, which is traversed by the new road. The claim was taken up last week, when appraisers for the claimant placed an original value on the entire tract, before the taking, of over $29,000 and estimated the damage by reason of the taking of some three acres for road purposes, at about $8,500. Over 90 apple trees, about half those in an orchard on the property, are in the road right of way. Witnesses admitted that the trees were in fairly good condition, but were chary about placing any definite value on them. Tuesday appraisers for the county were heard. Arthur Burns placed an original value on the entire property of $21,500 and allowed a damage claim of $3,000. C. C. Dumond placed the original value at the same figure, but estimated damages at $3,100.

This morning the claim of Mrs. Manda Tallman was heard. The property involved is at the corner of Grand and Main streets, Highland. There are about two acres of land, of which 785 acre is taken. An old house and barn on the premises are not taken. Walter Hasbrouck, appraiser for the claimant, placed a value on the property before taking of $4,000, but testified that he considered $400 a good price for it after the taking.

Bakers and Painters Tie, 8-8 In Fluky City League Contest

You take it. No, you take it. I don't want it, seemed to be the attitude of the players in the Grunewald-Kyanize City League contest Tuesday evening or at least it appeared that way to the fans who were at the Athletic Field to witness the game.

The game ended in an 8-8 dead-heat on a ball pasture this one was the damnest yet. Both teams tried to take it to each other, but neither one seemed to take it so it will have to be settled at a later date.

The players handled the ball like they would a hot potato, making no more than 14 errors, most of all them during the scoring.

Paul Misove of the Bakers and Leo Komosa of the Painters were the hurriers. Misove had to be replaced in the fourth inning, but he was not wholly to blame. Komosa went the entire route.

Joe Dulin, with a triple, double and a single, was the big Bernia of the Bakers. Fred Knight was the Painters' big gun. He contributed a double and a single to the Painters' score.

The Bakers got off to a flying start by scoring in the first inning. After two outs Dulin poled his triple to deep left field and raced home when Merritt heaved the ball over Stump's head.

Another wild heave over Stump's head in the second inning gave the Bakers their second run. Gadd singled and stole second base. Misove grounded to Celuch who tossed to Swarthout for the out. Swarthout in an attempt to double Gadd at third tossed it almost to the West Shore and Gadd dented the rubber.

The third frame was the Bakers' best. Uhl started it with a single to right field and Minasian repeated. Purvis drove Uhl home with a single to left field, Minasian taking third. Rider tried to catch Minasian napping and Kelly to register both Minasian and Purvis to register.

Dulin singled, but Kelly forced him at second. Gadd hit to Stump and Swarthout dropped his throw to let Kelly score and bring the score to 6-0.

The fans thought the game was sewed up, but the Painters had different ideas for in the fourth stanza they came within one run of tying. Diddig erred on Dawkins' grounder and Rider singled to left field. Dawkins plied third and on Lamb's hoist to Van Deusen scored. Komosa and Stump also singled and Rider tallied. Merritt hit through Diddig to score Komosa and Knight singled to right field to send home Stump and Merritt.

Grunewalds came back in their half of the fourth and added two more to their total. Celuch heaved Van Deusen's grounder to Smith avenue and Minasian drew a walk. Van Deusen reached third when Rider unhooked another wild heave and scored on Purvis' hit to Knight. Stump let Knight's return throw get away from him and Minasian also scored.

With the score 8-5 against them in the fifth the Painters went to town and tied it and that finished the scoring. Rider and Lamb hit singles. Messenger grounded out, but Rider singled. Komosa and Stump also hit singles and Lamb scored. Merritt forced Stump. Then on an attempted double steal Dulin made a bad toss home and Komosa brought home the tying run.

It took the Bakers' lineup to catch Lamb when he was caught in a trap in third inning.

G Gadd accepted five chances in left field to help the Bakers.

GAME TONIGHT

Grunewald's Home Leaders will again grace the diamond at the Athletic Field this evening when they take on Rosendale. The Villagers are fighting hard to get out of the cellar and promise to give the Bakers a real battle. Davis Rask, who has pitched some good ball for the Villagers, will be on the mound. His brother, Paul Rask, will be stationed behind the plate. Nick Huber will do the singing for the Bakers; Don Kelly will do the receiving. Game is scheduled for 8:15.

YESTERDAY'S STARS.

(By The Associated Press.)

Clay Bryant, Cubs—His five-inning, one-hit relief job for fifth win of year stopped Bees, 5-4, and put Chicago in first place.

Joe Dimaggio and Red Ruffing, Yankees—Former hit safely in 16th straight game with triple and single, latter hurled four-hit, 3-0 shut-out of Indians.

Johnny Mize, Cardinals—Three-bagger and two singles paced 14-hit attack that swamped Phillies, 13-4.

Gus Suhr, Pirates—His two hits, one homer with two on, drove in four runs as Bucs topped Hubbell and Giants, 7-5.

Al Hollingsworth, Reds—Checked Dodgers' rally in ninth for 4-3 victory.

Billy Knickerbocker, Browns—Smashed out two doubles and handed eight chances at short as Athletics bowled, 5-1.

Cletus Elwood Poffenberger, Tigers—Held Senators to three hits in 6-1-3 innings as Detroit won in 15 innings, 9-8.

Lefty Grove, Red Sox—Scattered seven hits and gave up one unearned run in 5-1 setback of White Sox.

Clayton Kershaw, Cardinals—Three-bagger and two singles paced 14-hit attack that swamped Phillies, 13-4.

Gus Suhr, Pirates—His two hits, one homer with two on, drove in four runs as Bucs topped Hubbell and Giants, 7-5.

Al Hollingsworth, Reds—Checked Dodgers' rally in ninth for 4-3 victory.

Billy Knickerbocker, Browns—Smashed out two doubles and handed eight chances at short as Athletics bowled, 5-1.

Cletus Elwood Poffenberger, Tigers—Held Senators to three hits in 6-1-3 innings as Detroit won in 15 innings, 9-8.

Lefty Grove, Red Sox—Scattered seven hits and gave up one unearned run in 5-1 setback of White Sox.

They Do Come Back

Tagging Major League Bases

By BILL BONI

Associated Press Sports Writer.

Perhaps Charles Ruffing knew what he was doing when he held out until May 5. Perhaps Colonel Jacob Ruppert, owner of the Yankees, knew what he was doing when he let his prize right-hander pull an Achilles and furl in his Nookomis, Ill., "tent."

Certainly a late start and missing the Yankees' spring training maneuvers appear not to have had any harmful effect on the pitching craft of Ruffing. Ruffing is a full game ahead of American League pursuers on the strength of Ruffing's sixth victory and second straight shutout, a 3-0 blanking of the Cleveland Indians.

In that position, they are a great deal better off than the Giants. Manager Bill Terry led his troops into Pittsburgh as National League pace setters but the Bucs won, 7-5.

sent Carl Hubbell to the showers for the fifth straight time, and dropped the New Yorkers into the second slot, half a game away from the Cubs.

Shortly after that defeat, Terry announced he had sent Frank Gabler and cash estimated at $35,000, to the Boston Bees in exchange for right-handed hitting Wally Berger.

Ruffing was the day's outstanding individual performer. He required relief in the eighth and again in the ninth in winning his first two games, but since then has gone the route of five starts. He has won four of them, allowing a shade less than six hits a game, with yesterday's four as a new low.

While Ruffing has been winning complete games for the Yankees, another big right-hander, Clay Bryant, has been saving games for the Cubs.

Clay pulled another out of the fire yesterday when he relieved Tex Carleton in the fifth, slowed the Bees down to a feeble buzz with one hit and hung up his fifth win of the year, 5-4, to put Chicago on top for the first time this year. Four of his triumphs have come in relief roles and he hasn't lost one yet.

The Giants' defeat by the Pirates, their first in seven clashes, marked another episode in the mysterious malady that has beset Hubbell since the Dodgers ended his two-year winning streak at 24 games. He lasted less than two innings and lost his third in a row.

While the Yanks were whipping the fourth-place Indians, the Tigers won a 15-inning marathon from the Senators, 9-8, and moved into second head of the White Sox. The latter lost to Lefty Grove and the Red Sox, 5-1, the same score by which the Browns whipped the Athletics.

The Cardinals blasted fourteen hits off three Phil pitchers to win their ninth in ten starts, 13-4, and Waite Hoyt lost his first game in a Brooklyn uniform as the Dodgers' ninth-inning rally fell a run shy of tying the Reds. Johnny Vander Meer gave eleven bases on balls but only three hits to earn his third triumph, though he needed ninth-inning relief by Al Hollingsworth before the Reds won, 4-3.

President Will Pitch First Ball

Washington, June 16 (AP)—A right hander who broke into the majors 20 years ago but who didn't become famous until 1933, will be the starting pitcher in baseball's all-star game here July 7. He is Franklin D. Roosevelt.

Owner Clark Griffith, of the Washington Senators, said he had made a "deal" with President Roosevelt to pitch the first ball.

He couldn't steer.... he couldn't stop.... 4 lives hung in the balance!

CHARLES FRANCIS "Socker" COE recounts a never-to-be-forgotten ride with three children as the innocent victims of near disaster.

"HOP IN, children,—first stop Kentland," beamed Mr. Harry Folkerth of Chicago, Ill. "And your mother won't have to worry about your safety—no need to me at the wheel," he added with confidence. "You don't catch me taking chances—life's too sweet."

But, sadly enough, it happened when they were out on the main through highway, less than two miles from Kentland. No warning of any sort—nothing but an ear-splitting BANG that rocked the car like a toy horse!

The three children let out a pitiful shriek, the car streaked to the left. Mr. Folkerth couldn't steer—he couldn't stop! A speeding stroke blocked the way. But by some stroke of fortune the oncoming car took a wide swerve, missed their uncontrollable car by inches.

Chappie and Turck Anxious About Second Match at the Auditorium

Kingston's two bitter featherweight rivals, are ready for Friday night, and their five rounder is expected to furnish the boxing assemblage at the Municipal Auditorium with thrills galore.

Victorious in the first meeting they had, Turck hopes to repeat. Chappie is out for revenge, and is confident he'll come out of the squared circle after the battle with the laurels. He was the favorite in the other clash, but suffered a technical knockout.

The story of the first ring war between the two 125 pounders in short follows:

"A capacity house looked on as Joe Turck made good his threat to beat Kid Chappie at the Municipal Auditorium where he scored a technical knockout in the fourth round.

"Turck rushed Chappie across the ring in the fourth and as the Kid came out of the ropes, he neglected to protect his jaw. Joe crashed a hard right which dazed him, then belted away with a barrage of lefts and rights that made Chappie will.

"As Chappie went down, he clung to Turck, dragging him half way, and Referee Bill Singer, realizing his weakness, waved the bout off, awarding the decision to Joe on a technical knockout."

Sammy Offerman, ex-professional boxer, who has been coaching Chappie for the return duel, says that no such thing will happen Friday night. "Chappie will use that left of his more," Offerman said, "and he'll beat Turck this time. He outpointed Joe in the first round of their last scrap, and should have gone on to win the decision, but became careless."

The Kid abandoned his boxing in the second round, to slug it out with Joe, and was unable to stand that right hand sock that the smiling little PWA worker has developed by swinging a pick. Turck has been training for more than two weeks, in good shape physically and boxing better than ever.

Both Turck and Chappie, who is in tip top form too, contemplated fighting out their "grudge" last Monday in Poughkeepsie, but rain prevented their slugfest, which was put on the Kingston card for Friday, much to the delight of the local fans. It replaces the five rounder between Jackie Pilkins of West Point and Joe Triola of Albany.

The reason the two little scrappers have not fought it out before, is because Chappie could not leave his job in the Cornell street A. & P. store until 9 p. m. Fridays. This week, the management, desiring to cooperate with the mayor's industrial committee, arranged for him to rest half a day before the fight.

So anxious were the two to meet in combat for the second time that they accepted the invitation to box at Poughkeepsie last Monday, an agreeable day for both, but rain drove the match back to Kingston.

There are three other fights on the card. Buddy Emerson, St. Remy, vs. Pete Gann, Newburgh; Mario Severino, Schenectady, vs. Danny Romano, and Sammy Travatolo, Poughkeepsie, vs. Johnny Pomato, Albany.

There are three three-round prelims making a card of seven bouts in all.

START OF STEEL WAR SCUFFLE

"Scab," cried pickets at a Negro worker at the Cambria plant of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation, whereupon the man (on ground at left) drew a pistol (shown by arrow). The ensuing scuffle between pickets and non-union workers brought injuries to five men. A policeman is reaching for the negro's gun. The scene is Johnstown, Pa.

BROKEN PICKET

Andy Organio, picket at the Franklin plant of the Bethlehem Steel Corporation at Johnstown Penna. injured during a clash with non-strikers, is shown leaving the hospital under police escort.

Back-To-Work Movement Fails

Girdler labelled John L. Lewis' C. I. O. but Purnell was not as outspoken. Both reiterated their determination not to sign C. I. O. contracts—the crux of the situation under which more than 100,000 workers are idle—was unchanged.

President Roosevelt, commenting in Washington at the regular press conference, said he thought Republic Steel should be willing to put a verbal contract into writing; that common sense dictated that if a man were willing to make a verbal agreement he should go further and put his name to it.

The Johnstown front, where C. I. O. is striking against Bethlehem Steel's Cambria works and where there has been fighting and bloodshed, saw more state policemen poured into the city, and Mayor Daniel Shields announced he had deputized "at least 400 men."

The "back-to-work" movement picked up momentum here as spokesmen for non-striking workers they estimate at 10,000 prepared to confer today with Purnell about re-opening Sheet & Tube Company plants, closed three weeks ago by the strike.

"The men are ready to go back to work at any time," said their spokesman, Ray L. Thomas. "We hope to have them back by tomorrow."

Spokesmen for non-striking Republic Steel workers said their men "felt the same way," and that they had "back-to-work" signatures from 70 per cent of Republic's 8,000 employees in Youngstown.

Ready for Challenge

But C. I. O. leaders made ready to meet the challenge. They hurriedly arranged a series of mass meetings throughout the strike-locked Mahoning Valley today to bolster strike morale. C. I. O.'s director for Ohio, John Owens, was called in to take personal charge of the strike and to head today's speakers.

Gov. Martin L. Davey, undismayed by the failure of his peace conference yesterday, called upon Girdler and Purnell to meet with him tomorrow. He hoped that in a conference at which union men are not present he may be able to learn from the steel executives just what terms would be acceptable.

There was little prospect, however, that either Girdler or Purnell would accept the Governor's invitation.

Republic Steel plants at Buffalo, Chicago, Canton, Warren and Niles, O., Girdler said "are operating in spite of armed pickets," and "the sixth open hearth furnace and the wire mill have been started at Chicago."

Explaining his refusal to sign a contract as demanded by C. I. O., Girdler said C. I. O. has "broken numerous contracts," adding:

Republic Steel filed a mandamus action in Federal District Court at Washington yesterday to compel the postoffice department to make parcel post delivery of food packages to workers in the company's plants. The company charged the postoffice department had refused to make such deliveries on the grounds that it constituted "irregular service."

Girdler said that the C. I. O. strike has already cost Republic Steel workers "nearly $3,000,000 in wages."

CAPT. SHEPPARD STILL HAS FAITH IN SCHOONERS.

Stonington, Me., June 16 (AP)—There's one man left in Maine anyway, who doesn't believe the day of the down-east coasting schooner has passed.

Capt. Albert M. Sheppard of this town has so much faith in the future of the stubby little craft that he's having a new one built to replace his 28-year old Enterprise.

Capt. Sheppard's new schooner will be like those of the coasters' heyday. It will depend on wind alone, and will carry about 100 tons of cargo.

The 55-year-old skipper carries pulpwood from Bluehill Bay to Bangor in the summer, and in the fall takes salt fish from downeast ports to Gloucester, stopping at Portland once in a while for a stray cargo of salt or coal.

COMFORTER SOCIAL CLUB OUTING, SATURDAY, JUNE 19.

The Reformed Church of the Comforter Social Club will hold its annual outing on Saturday, June 19, afternoon and evening.

The event this year will be held at the camp of Theodore Floyd, located at the end of Esopus avenue, on the bank of the Esopus creek.

Five Persons Rescued

Nahan, Mass., June 16 (AP)—Five persons, including two women and two girls, adrift all night in a disabled cabin cruiser, were rescued by coast guardsmen today after one of the girls removed her white skirt and used it to wag a distress signal. The occupants of the craft, which became disabled shortly after leaving Saugus last evening, were Mr. and Mrs. Chester Fraser of Melrose, their daughter, Elaine, 7, and Mrs. Mildred McNeill and her daughter, Regina, 17, of Malden. It was Regina's skirt that attracted the coast guard after a fog horn and light signals brought no help during the darkness.

King's 79th Birthday

Stockholm, Sweden, June 16 (AP)—King Gustaf V. Europe's oldest reigning sovereign, celebrated his 79th birthday today with a game of tennis. The elderly monarch observed the anniversary quietly at Tuilgarn Palace, his summer residence, while cannon boomed salutes in Sweden's belagged capital.

Our Growing Population

ported to the Board of Health:
Mr. and Mrs. Dennis W. Osgood of Willow, a daughter, Marilyn Elizabeth, at Kingston Hospital.
Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. Lee of

Fields Denies He Drank 2 Quarts Whisky Daily, Says Doctor Doped Him

Riverside, Calif., June 16 (AP)—Bulb-nosed, raucous-voiced W. C. Fields, one of the screen's top-flight comedians, roared a denial today to charges he drank two quarts of whisky a day.

"Nonsense! It's a lie," shouted Fields in answer to statements of Dr. Jesse Citron that the actor's excessive drinking made his hospital case hard to handle.

It was Field's half of the tinning as he came into court to defend himself in a $12,000 medical fees suit brought by Dr. Citron, who ministered to him for a month last year when the actor was critically ill.

The film comedian has filed a counter claim for $25,000, alleging a sleep-producing drug not recognized by the American Medical Society was used in his treatment. Fields contends $1,000 would have been a fair fee but the physician said his bill was arrived at on the basis of one-twelfth of Field's annual income.

Why compromise on Oil Heat? Investigate

the Master Kraft

SUPER ★ SAFE OIL BURNER

TRIPLE ATOMIZATION

One reason why the MASTER KRAFT Oil Burner is showing such a fine record of economical operation is because the oil is atomized THREE TIMES before it is ignited, which means that every last minute particle of oil gives up its heat. The exclusive, patented MASTER KRAFT TRIPALATOR is responsible for the TRIPLE Atomization.

SUPER ★ SAFETY

In addition to the normal safety controls used on all oil burners carrying the approval of the Underwriters' Laboratories, Inc., the MASTER KRAFT Oil Burner is protected by the exclusive patented BORKONTROL. This is designed to eliminate positively the last remote possibility of danger from transformer failure, due to open circuit conditions.
